DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION OF 1924 BEGINS TODAY WITH BIG FIELD OF STARTERS A WAITING SIGNAL

Lieut. Maughan Loses in Dawn-to-Dusk Flight

SUN BEAT AIRMAN NEARLY TWO HOURS ACROSS CONTINENT

Record Was Set, Nevertheless, in Making Distance in Less Than Full Day of Flying.

FIVE STOPS MADE BETWEEN OCEANS

Maughan Almost Mobbed by Crowd Upon Arrival at Camp Crissey, Near San Francisco.

San Francisco, June 23.—The sun still is supreme.

Lieutenant Russell Maughan, U. S. A., who challenged it to a race from New York to San Francisco, lost his contest but won fame for himself.

Maughan, who left Mitchell field, Mineola, New York, at 2:50 a. m., eastern standard, Monday morning, hoping to fly to San Francisco before the same sun sank into the Golden Gate, alighted safely at Crissey field here at 9:47 p. m.

Two hours, ten minutes earlier the sun had dropped slowly into the Pacific—setting a deep red, perhaps a flush of victory.

Dusk had been over more than an hour when Maughan landed.

The old Norse myths tell of Balder, god of light, who brought sunshine when he gained ascendancy in his unending battle with the forces of darkness.

All day long Balder was strongest and the gods of darkness were eclipsed. But finally Balder tired and darkness gained the upper hand—bringing night.

FLIGHT TOOK LESS THAN 22 HOURS.

San Francisco, June 23.—(By the Associated Press.)—Lieutenant L. Maughan, army flier, completed his daylight-to-dusk flight from New York to San Francisco when he landed at Crissey field at 9:48 p. m. He arrived in San Francisco at 9:44 p. m.

As soon as the plane landed, newspaper men broke through police lines holding back a huge crowd lining the field and greeted the flier. A few seconds later the mammoth throng of spectators, cheering and shouting, while automobile sirens shrieked in a mad race to the landing field, surrounded the plane.

Maughan landed on a brilliant pathway of huge flares, making the field almost as light as day. The landing was made without mishap.

The plane, in which Maughan left New York at 2:50 p. m. (eastern standard time) today on his third attempt to span the continent, was first sighted when he circled the field twice in the deepening dusk.

Spectators Surround Maughan. Maughan dropped down on the field at the northeast corner and taxied to the center of the field. There he became the center of a surging, shouting, wildly excited mass of spectators. The way was cleared, however, for news photographers to take pictures of the plane and the daring flier.

Maughan's landing at 9:48 p. m. made his time for the 2,500 miles.

ANIMAL OF QUEER SHAPE IS BROUGHT BACK BY ATTACHE

New York, June 23.—An animal with a body shaped like that of a dachshund, but with webbed feet, with a head like an ant-eater and with long hair, which sings somewhat like a bird, was brought from South America by William Schurz, commercial attaché of the American embassy at Buenos Aires, who arrived here today.

The animal is said to be the first of its species to be brought to this country. Mr. Schurz discovered it while surveying the rubber plantations of the Amazon valley. He said he would present it to the zoological gardens in Washington, D. C.

DELEGATES LITTLE SHAKEN IN LINEUP SO FAR BY PLEAS

Balance of Strength Between McAdoo and Anti-McAdoo Forces Fairly Stable.

BY MARK SULLIVAN.

New York, June 23.—For ease of access to the reader's understanding, let us look at it in terms of McAdoo and anti-McAdoo. That, at the present stage, is the accurate picture. It will continue to be so until after the early balloting next Friday.

In terms of delegates, McAdoo has about 440 available to him on the first ballot, most of them instructed, many of them intensely loyal without needing to be instructed, and some of them undoubtedly only for McAdoo under the duress of the unit rule.

In addition to this 440, McAdoo has upward of 100 contingent delegates, so that his total maximum strength is somewhere upward of 550, which figure is a majority, but much less than the necessary two-thirds.

The rest of the delegates, somewhat less than a majority, are all, broadly speaking, anti-McAdoo.

Ratio Not Changed.

This relative proportion between McAdoo and anti-McAdoo has not changed materially since the primaries throughout the country ended. It has not been changed so far by anything happening here in New York. It may change. It is the constant effort of the leaders and candidates to make it change, but the delegates are fairly stable in their various allegiances. The McAdoo delegations from the west and south arrive here, they go direct to McAdoo's headquarters, they receive a fresh infusion of devotion from McAdoo's personality, they come out of the room alight with enthusiasm.

The anti-McAdoo delegates, almost all from the east and north, are met by leaders and workers from the anti-McAdoo camp. Many of them are taken to Governor Smith's headquarters or the headquarters of one or another of the candidates. So far they remain stable in their determination to beat McAdoo.

There is no sign as yet that the balance of strength as between the two groups is affected by the persuasions of leaders. If bodies of delegates sufficiently large to determine the outcome are to be changed in their

GEORGIA CAUCUS VOTES UNIT RULE ON ALL SUBJECTS

Minority Quorum of 24 Delegates Out of 56 Votes, 21 to 3, To Extend Unity of Action.

ANDREW ERWIN BALKS AT HANDCUFF PLAN

Statement Declares Georgia Primary Instructions Only Pledged Him to McAdoo Candidacy.

BY JAMES A. HOLLOMON.

Convention Hall, New York, June 23.—(Special.)—The night before the democratic national convention finds a hopeless deadlock between the McAdoo and Smith forces with strong indications that both will be eliminated and a dark horse, either John W. Davis or Samuel M. Ralston, nominated as the democratic candidate for president.

At the present writing the odds are in favor of Davis. This does not mean, however, even if McAdoo or Smith succeed in choking each other off, as indicated, that one or the other, Davis or Ralston, will be nominated. Under such a circumstance, with a majority of the delegates under unit rule primary convention instructions, the convention may go anywhere in its search for a candidate, and bring out an entirely unthought-of nominee.

No Chances for Smith.

This was demonstrated in 1896 when W. J. Bryan received his first nomination. Today his brother, Charlie Bryan, governor of Nebraska, is an avowed candidate, and even the "Peerless One" would not reject the nomination if it became necessary to name him as a compromise candidate and in the interest of party harmony.

If the night before the convention finds any one thing apparently certain, it is that Governor Smith, of New York, will not be nominated. He has the local hallyhoos and his headquarters in the Waldorf are always crowded, but that does not mean anything in the convention vote. He is next in formidableness to McAdoo, but the Smith delegates will even go to McAdoo quicker than the McAdoo delegates will go to Smith. That is certain.

McAdoo Plans Stampede.

The nomination fight, therefore, is just as uncertain tonight as it was a week ago, with both of the leading candidates apparently weakening as the hours pass.

The McAdoo delegates are preparing to stage an enormous demonstration, and it may last even an hour, so intent are they upon impressing the convention with the McAdoo strength.

The Smith delegation, backed by an enormously strong local and Tammany gallery, will attempt the same. These, however, will be only superficial, and will not add to or take from the convention strength of each candidate in the early balloting.

The three big handicaps that McAdoo is working under are first, the ambitious of dark horse candidates from states favorable to him; second, the Ku Klux Klan issue which is tied to him, whether deservedly or not; and third, the combination of the field against him, with an antagonistic local press.

Smith is even more seriously handicapped with his wet and other attitudes.

Georgia Delegation Arrives.

The Georgia delegation arrived on the good ship Montezuma this morning at 9 o'clock. The ship was met at quarantine by a chartered yacht full of New York Georgians who had been named as a reception committee. During the day the delegation conferred and appointed the following as Georgia members of the various convention committees:

Rules: H. Dean; resolutions: Newton Morris; credentials: P. A. Stovall; notifying nominee for president: Mrs. Z. V. Petersen; notifying nominee for vice president: Dr. George A. Paulk.

The chairman of the Georgia delegates is Hollins N. Randolph and the following vice chairmen were: following named: Albert Foster, E. J. Lindsay, Louis Marquet, T. B. Bullock, Major John S. Cohen was elected national committeeman.

The following steering committee for convention floor work was named: O. A. Nix, Mrs. Bettie R. Cobb, I. J. Price, Berry Rich and Andrew C. Erwin.

The delegation, by a vote of 21 to 3, this being less than a majority quorum of the 56 delegates, agreed to vote as a unit not only for McAdoo, but on all questions, including the anti-Klan plank, which is to be proposed.

MURDER MYSTERY BAFFLES POLICE

Atlanta Police and Deputies of Boykin's Office Join in Probe of Mixon Case.

While police officers of two counties continued their relentless search for clues which might cast some light on Atlanta's latest murder mystery, simple services were conducted at Greenwood cemetery late Monday afternoon for Oliver Mixon, bookkeeper, whose partially decomposed body, with throat slashed from ear to ear, was found Sunday morning in Little Neck creek, ten miles northwest of Decatur.

Mixon, who disappeared last Thursday morning when he left the Phoenix Supply company to go to the post office, is believed by members of his family to have met death at the hands of unknown enemies who dragged his body to a lonely spot in one of the most densely wooded sections in north Georgia and concealed it.

Friends Attend Funeral.

Many friends joined in the simple services held at the graveside Monday afternoon. Dr. W. M. Seay, pastor of West End Baptist church, officiating. The widow and her three small children were tragic figures in the group, the former near collapse following the tragic news which ended a vigil she had kept for her missing husband for four days.

Articles of clothing which officers believe would aid in tracing the route over which Mixon's body was carried to its resting place in the swamp are being sought by police forces of DeKalb and Fulton counties. Mixon's

39 TUNNEL WAY OUT TO FREEDOM

Prisoners in Memphis Jail Cut to Liberty Through Three-Foot Solid Brick Wall.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Memphis, Tenn., June 23.—Thirty-nine prisoners, including 13 white men and 26 negroes, tunneled their way to freedom from the Shelby county jail here early tonight and at a late hour all except one were still at liberty.

One of the prisoners, S. H. Moore, held in connection with the recent robbery of a cafe, was captured a few hours after the break and was returned to his cell.

Using improvised picks, believed to have been fashioned from parts of an iron cot in one of the cells, the prisoners picked an opening through the three-foot brick wall around the small stockade. When the jailer went to lock up the prisoners for the night, he found the stockade empty. Only the gaping mawhole in the brick wall told the story of the escape.

Alarm Is Sounded.

Two hours after the jail delivery was discovered, every available policeman and deputy sheriff was on duty patrolling the streets, railroad yards and highways leading into the city from every direction. With the sole exception of Moore, however, none of the escaped prisoners had been apprehended late tonight.

Sheriff Will Knight and his staff, as well as government officials, attribute the escape of the prisoners to the ingenuity of H. Diggs Nolen, notorious police character, who is under sentence of 15 years in the Tennessee penitentiary for forgery. Word was brought to the sheriff that Nolen, of the home and prevented spread of the blaze to nearby buildings.

DEMOCRATIC PARTY TORN WITH STRIFE AS GAVEL FALLS

Personal, Political and Religious Bickering Run Riot as Day of Meeting Dawns.

COX AND RALSTON GAIN NEW BOOM

Underwood Candidacy Revives as Scramble for Compromise Position Enters Stretch.

BY RAYMOND CLAPPER.

New York, June 23.—The democratic party pulls up face to face with one of the most crucial conventions in its history, torn with personal, political and religious bad feeling.

New York is ready for the big opening Tuesday morning. Fifth avenue's flags are up. Madison Square Garden is dressed for its greatest fight. The radio apparatus is in place. The platform has been reinforced to withstand the assaults of jumping orators. The delegates are here. They have obtained their badges and were treated to an all-afternoon parade of Mayor Hylan's policemen, firemen and street sweepers. Everything, in fact, is ready for the great convention except the democratic party.

Party Suffers From Nerves.

With the opportunity of a generation thrown plump into its lap by the indiscretions of Albert B. Fall and the associates of Harry M. Daugherty, the democratic party is suffering an acute case of nerves. Al Smith and William Gibbs McAdoo are screaming at each other—or rather these friends are. The ominous hood of the Ku Klux Klan is seen above the convention throng. The league of nations issue has been thrust upon the scene by the resolute spirit of Woodrow Wilson, which hovers over the uneasy convention.

The wrangling of pre-convention week proved too strenuous for Cordell Hull, chairman of the democratic national committee, who collapsed and has been put to bed under the care of a physician. It is not known

SHOOTING OUTRAGE STATE ATLANTANS

Will Push Case Against Prohibition Officers Who Wounded Two in Carolina Fight Monday.

Branding the shooting of E. M. Ivey and Herndon Thomas by prohibition agents Monday morning as an "unprovoked outrage," members of the Atlanta party which engaged in a gun battle with officers on the Greenville-Hendersonville highway in South Carolina plan to push the fight to the limit to exact maximum punishment against Reuben Gosnell, federal prohibition agent; John McCaulley, state constable and the latter's son, Albert, who comprised the party of officers.

Ivey, head of an Atlanta automobile concern, and Thomas, salesman from this city, are in a Greenville hospital and are expected to recover. A. J. Martin, an employee of The Constitution, and J. M. Foley, of The Atlanta Journal—the other members of the tourist party—returned to this city Monday afternoon after preferring charges against the three officers.

Officers Are Held.

Each of the officers, according to Martin, is held under heavy bond, while warrants also have been served on Ivey and Thomas.

Martin and Foley claim that their machine had been stopped while they filled their canteens with water from a spring near the scene of the shooting. They were preparing to start when two automobiles occupied by the officers drove up.

Gosnell is said to have run to the side of the Atlanta car, and after ordering Ivey to throw up his hands, to have grappled with him. Ivey broke loose, and mistaking the officers for the party of the Atlanta car, he fired the shot which wounded Ivey.

CHAIN OF HUMANS CRAWL UP FACE OF STONE HEIGHT

Aurora, Ill., June 23.—Up the face of the great stone height on the Illinois river near Ottawa, Ill., which is called Starved Rock, eighty men and women crawled several hundred feet, inch by inch yesterday, following a storm which drove against the bottom of the cliff and overturned a motor launch in which the party had been riding.

A young man led the way, finding stout roots to grasp and natural steps in the hillside. He reached down after the next man who in turn helped the person behind, the whole party making a human chain. Two of the links were 200 pound women and one was a woman who had a three-months-old baby. The baby was passed up from person to person.

SHADOW OF KLAN REARS HATE HEAD OVER CONVENTION

Opponents of Hooded Order Have Gone So Far With Fight They Cannot Now Back Out.

BY RALPH H. TURNER.

New York, June 23.—Raising itself above the hosts gathered for the great democratic national convention of the Ku Klux Klan, menacing the meeting which opens Tuesday with one of the most bitter battles in party history.

There is no turning back now, if factional leaders, campaign directors and delegates stand with their commitments on the Klan issue.

A movement that was started apparently as a weapon with which to wreck William G. McAdoo's candidacy has reached proportions which cannot be checked. The fight is on.

Anti-Klan Plank Plan.

The anti-Klan plank is drawn, framed in denunciatory language, clear cut and unmistakable. Arrangements have been concluded for its presentation to the resolutions committee.

The last step necessary to set the Klan controversy on its way to the convention floor was revealed Monday when Newton D. Baker, former secretary of war and Ohio representative on the resolutions committee, announced he would present Ohio's anti-Klan plank to the resolutions committee. Baker's announcement was based on instructions from the Ohio delegation, after it had endorsed the declaration against the Klan drawn up by Ed Moore.

To Floor By Minority Report.

Ohio delegates are buying themselves now with winning support in their fight to denounce the hooded order by name. Their instructions to Baker were to present the "substance" of the Moore plank. While the language may be changed, its spirit is expected to remain the same.

School To Gain By Ancient Error In Engineering

Will Make Possible Repaving on Forrest Avenue This Year.

An engineering error of years ago when Forrest avenue, Randolph street and Fortune street were first laid out is to make possible repaving in front of the Forrest Avenue school by the time school opens in September, it was announced Monday by John A. White, councilman from the fourth ward.

A new survey, developed the fact that the Forrest avenue block is six inches longer on the school side of the street than on the other, the south side, which is owned by the Gardner estate in Augusta. The survey was completed Monday by the city construction department.

The error gives the city control of the majority of the front foot of abutting on Forrest avenue for that block and under the city charter enables the city to pave the street, under the ten-year baby bond plan regarding the wishes of the Gardner estate. Councilman White said the block is 370.5 feet long on the school side of the street and 371.5 feet long on the Gardner side of the street.

The extra six inches gives the city control of the block because of its ownership of the school property.

HARRISON TO SOUND KEYNOTE AT NOON.

New York, June 23.—Changing plans at the last moment, Chairman Cordell Hull of the democratic national committee has decided that Senator Harrison's keynote speech will be delivered immediately after the convention meets Tuesday morning instead of at a night session. The hour of meeting was fixed at 11 o'clock, eastern standard time.

Harrison's speech will begin within a few minutes after the convention is called to order. Earlier plans were to have Harrison's keynote delivered at a night session so that radio fans would have a better opportunity to listen in.

ASSAULT CHARGED TO GRIFFIN BOYS BY CAFE WAITER

Griffin, Ga., June 23.—(Special.) Five Griffin boys are held under bonds of $500 each under warrants charging assault with intent to murder and rioting, growing out of the alleged flogging and otherwise mistreatment of Pierce Oxford, a waiter in a local cafe.

The five boys held are Wheaton McAfee, Homer Spruce, Frank Parham, Ray Sprayberry and Bill Digby. They, in turn, swore out a warrant for Oxford charging fighting and a bond of $100 was fixed for him.

According to reports, the boys accused Oxford of making a derogatory remark to a young lady concerning one of the boys, following which he and his friends carried him out in the woods and administered a severe beating. Oxford denies making the remark.

The Oxford boy was badly bruised and unable to report for work the next day.

The case will come up in the September session of superior court, it was announced today.

5 cents - 7 days

If an average family of five persons bought only Swift & Company meats for one week during 1923, that family would have paid the company, as profit, less than 5 cents on the week's supply.

These figures are developed by considering U. S. Government statistics on meat consumption in relation to Swift & Company's profit.

By the intelligent use of capital, Swift & Company prepares meats in a modern, sanitary, scientifically-clean manner.

By intensive organization, Swift & Company distributes every variety of meat, under complete refrigeration, to retail markets of great cities and small hamlets—wherever they may be located.

It is only through the most efficient methods that a company can supply the meat requirements of a family of five persons, anywhere in this country, for a period of seven days, at a profit of only 5 cents.

Swift & Company's profit from all sources in 1923 averaged only a fraction of a cent per pound on all products sold.

LIEUTENANT MAUGHAN LOSES IN FLIGHT

air line dash from New York, including five refueling stops en route, 21 hours, 47 minutes, 15 seconds, slightly under his original estimate of the time the flight would consume. Apparently almost overcome with emotion and jubilation at the victory which he had achieved, Lieutenant Maughan seemed unable to speak when his plane came to a stop. His face bore a serious and drawn expression. He was lifted bodily from the cockpit by his cheering comrades of the air service and carried on their shoulders through the swirling crowd to a rear door of the army headquarters.

The demonstration accorded Maughan was without parallel in the history of local aviation events. He was already clothed the field when the drone of his motor first was heard. The crowd began cheering.

Maughan's plane then was lost to view in a slight mist which overhung the field, although its shadow could be discerned intermittently. On his second circuit over the field, the mist blotted it from sight completely, and the din burst forth with renewed vigor when he unexpectedly soared down to the field at the south end of the big quadrangle.

GENERAL PATRICK CONGRATULATES MAUGHAN.
Washington, June 24.—Congratulations were sent by Major General Patrick, chief of the army air service, early today to Lieutenant Maughan immediately upon the completion of the transcontinental flight.

In a message transmitted to the lieutenant by The Associated Press, General Patrick said: "Congratulations on the achievement of a wonderful feat. You have fulfilled every confidence I had in you. You have brought prestige to yourself, the army air service and to America. Not only from a military, but from a commercial standpoint, this flight is epochal. I am proud of you, God bless you."

MAUGHAN IS GIVEN PLACE IN FRONT RANK.
Mitchell Field, N. Y., June 23.—Lieutenant Russell L. Maughan's transcontinental flight gives him a place in the foremost ranks of the world's aviators, Major William M. Hensley, Jr., commander of Mitchell Field, said tonight when told that the aviator had landed in San Francisco.

had crossed the continent without mishap within the span of a single day was received with jubilation by the aviator's fellow officers at the flying field. They immediately gave him a place beside Lieutenants John MacLearly and "Buddy" Kelly, who on May 2 and 3, 1923, established a world's non-stop distance flying record, flying from New York to San Diego, 2,520 miles, in 26 hours, 50 minutes, 38 2/5 seconds.

"Lieut. Maughan has accomplished his feat, endurance and courage a feat that many of his most optimistic colleagues considered impossible," said Major Hensley. "The army, and particularly the air service, is proud of him."

NAUSEA ATTACKS HIM AT CHEYENNE LANDING.

Cheyenne, Wyo., June 23.—Lieutenant Russell Maughan, flying from New York to San Francisco between dawn and dusk, landed on the Cheyenne air mail field at 2:17 o'clock this afternoon, nearly two-thirds of his flight behind him. From New York to Cheyenne, he covered 1,680 miles. The distance from here to San Francisco is 800 miles.

Lieutenant Maughan apparently had difficulty in landing here. He circled the field several times and twice skimmed the surface before he finally made a perfect landing at a point estimated at close to 50 miles an hour.

Maughan said as he approached Cheyenne he experienced a recurrence of the nausea from protracted nervous strain, which caused him to collapse here last year. He became normal after alighting from his ship.

At 2:35 o'clock, Maughan was handed an encouraging weather report from Rock Springs, 200 miles west. He smiled as he read it. It said: "Partly cloudy, flying, and visibility practically unlimited."

T. Joe Cahill, on behalf of the Frontier Days committee, presented Maughan a "four-gallon" sombrero. Maughan expressed confidence that he would successfully complete his flight.

Maughan hopped off at 2:54 o'clock, mounted his plane, circled the field and headed straight for the Rocky mountains, 30 miles to the west.

32 MINUTES AHEAD OF TIME LAST YEAR.
St. Joseph, Mo., June 23.—In fine spirits and with his plane in good condition after flying 1,140 miles since this morning, Lieutenant Russell L. Maughan in a Curtiss pursuit plane landed at Rosser's flying field, south of St. Joseph, at 10:52 o'clock, central time this morning. Maughan was flying low as he approached the field from the north-east. He waved to his mechanics, who waved flags to direct him to a dry section of the field.

As mechanics rushed forward to assist him, Maughan flew upward about 50 feet to the astonishment of thousands of persons who had assembled to greet him. He twice circled the field and then gracefully glided down to a dry spot on the north end.

"I knew you had a rain here last night," Maughan declared, "so I decided to come in low and then circle the field to see my bearings."

said: "I have every reason to hope that the trip will be successful this time."

"Will Beat Jinx."
Somebody in the crowd that had gathered made reference to his old jinx following him and Lieutenant Maughan already under way, shouted back, "I'll beat him."

The plane is a standard army Curtiss biplane, the same as used in his previous attempts, and is capable of a speed greater than 160 miles an hour.

Lieutenant Maughan hopes to land in San Francisco in time to have his supper, having breakfasted in New York.

START MADE JUST BEFORE 3 O'CLOCK.
Mitchell Field, N. Y., June 23.—A lone aviator, Lieutenant Russell L. Maughan, this morning began a race with the sun in the hope of spanning a sixth of the earth's circumference before his path is darkened.

Two unsuccessful attempts in the past year had not dampened his ardor and following a light breakfast, the aviator took the air in his 275-horsepower single-seater plane at one-half minute before 3 o'clock, eastern standard time.

Some few clouds were in the sky, but the eastern star behind clouded a guide, and a half-moon lighted his way toward and over the Alleghenies, which he hoped to cross before full daylight. One hundred and fifty spectators watched the departure.

Crissey field at San Francisco lies 2,670 miles west, as the crow flies. The aviator will go somewhat farther in his jump between four inland fields, where fresh supplies and a few moments' rest awaited him during the flight scheduled to consume 16 hours and 40 minutes, just four hours less than the maximum amount of daylight afforded him. From his margin of time, the four refueling stops may take two hours, but he hopes to cut each stop to a third its scheduled time.

Before retiring for a short rest late in the evening, the lieutenant was jovial and apparently carefree, but when he arose and went to the field, his face was set. It may have been memories. Twice before, details have cheated him of a victory earned in full measure.

Other Attempts Fail.
July 19, of last year, he set out with the same hopes in the optimism of a first trial. Midway across the country a small motor ailment forced him down. The plane was rushed back and ten days later a second attempt was begun.

This promised success through every hard stage of the journey until at Rock Springs, Wyo., 600 miles from his goal, an oil leak of no consequence in repairing, but vital in the air, forced him down.

AMERICAN SEAPLANES ESTABLISH NEW RECORD.
Washington, June 23.—Four world records for seaplanes, including endurance and distance records, were supplanted by a new world record by Lieutenants F. W. Wead and J. D. Price in a flight which ended early today at a point estimated at close to 50 miles an hour.

The navy fliers, who took the air from the Anacostia naval air station here at 12:10 p. m. yesterday in a new type of scouting, bombing and torpedo plane, made a sustained flight of 13 hours and 23 minutes and covered a distance of 1,550 kilometers. The present recognized endurance record is 11 hours and 16 minutes and the distance record 1,275 kilometers. In addition, the flight smashed the speed record for both the 500 and 1,000 kilometer distances, with an average of 73.41 miles an hour against the record of 71.98 miles for the first, and 74.27 miles against the record of 70.43 miles for the second. For the 1,500 kilometer distance, a record of 74.17 miles an hour was set up.

All of the marks were confirmed by officers of the National Aeronautic society and will undoubtedly be recognized as new records by the international society.

Hopes of the two airmen to stretch their new endurance record to 24 hours by maintaining up through the night and until after noon today were defeated by a breakdown of the gasoline pump on their 585 horsepower Wright motor.

"DEFENSE TEST" DAY IS OPPOSED BY METHODISTS.
Chicago, June 23.—The ministers of the Methodist Episcopal churches of Chicago unanimously adopted a resolution opposing "defense test" day, September 12, referred to in the resolution as "mobilization day."

A similar resolution recently was passed by the Chicago church federation. The "defense test" day announced by Secretary of War Weeks will take place on the last night of General Pershing's service before retirement.

"We are unalterably opposed to this whole plan," said the Methodist resolution. "We feel that it would tend to dishonor General Pershing, who did so much in the recent war to end war."

NAVAL STORES MEN PLAN BIG TRADE BODY

Savannah, Ga., June 23.—Tomorrow morning at the DeSoto hotel there will be a meeting of subscribers to the Naval Stores Men's Association, as well as all others interested in the naval stores business, for the purpose of perfecting a permanent company to enter the buying and selling field. A number of men in the rosin and turpentine business have already reached the city, and the meeting at the DeSoto tomorrow morning will probably be well attended.

L. M. Audrey, of Orlando, Fla., who is chairman of the movement for organization, will preside. Most of the men in attendance will be operators from Georgia, though there will be several representatives from the neighboring states.

Previous meetings of those interested in the exchange were held in Jacksonville and subscriptions were made toward the capital of the proposed exchange in the sum of $200,000. It is planned to augment it by another $100,000 at the Savannah meeting.

The question of in which state to apply for a charter will also be taken up. The three states that have been mentioned are Georgia, Florida and Delaware. Directors will also be selected and policies defined by those who attend.

Forced by Klan Minister Admits Stretch in Pen

East St. Louis, Ill., June 23.—Threats by the Ku Klux Klan to expose his past, the Rev. O. Pierre Belanger of the Landowood Church of Christ, said today, had prompted him last night to confess to his congregation that he had served a term in the state penitentiary of Minnesota, 12 years ago.

"Had I told you that I had done a little stretch in the big house when I was considering the call to your congregation a year ago you would have turned me down," were the words with which the minister prefaced his confession to the assembled congregation.

The minister then went into details of prison life and the cause of his being sentenced to the penitentiary. He asserted his conviction was brought about by perjured testimony. In explaining his reason for exposing his past, Rev. Mr. Belanger attributed the threats to the fact that he had relinquished his membership in the Ku Klux Klan in this city when state and national officers of the organization refused to take any action against members of the Klan in East St. Louis who were charged with graft and extortion.

STATE ATLANTANS

cers for highwaymen, drew his revolver. Gosnell called for help, and one of his companions is said to have then fired the shot that opened hostilities. Ivey returned the fire, throwing his revolver away after emptying it.

Two Men Are Wounded.

It was then that he and Thomas were wounded, claim Martin and Foley. Ivey and Thomas ran to a nearby farm house for assistance, and the officers, following them into the house, placed them under arrest. Foley was arrested when found near the machine, and Martin was found on the road to Greenville, about two miles from the automobiles, as he had started to walk to Greenville for help.

Atlanta members of the party immediately brought charges against the officers, who were arrested by the sheriff.

Both Martin and Foley commended Greenville officials for their stand on the entire matter, and declared their confidence that the officers will be found guilty and punished.

The Atlantans were on the return trip from Lake Toxaway, where they had been since Saturday. None of the party had any liquor at any time during the trip, they said, and the officers admitted that no liquor was found in the machine.

Are Held in Bond.

Greenville, S. C. June 23.—Participants in the shooting affray on the Greenville-Hendersonville highway this morning in which two Atlanta business men were wounded in an encounter with prohibition officers were held in $1,000 bonds today, pending a hearing into the circumstances. Cross-warrants were sworn out by members of the party, which included the wounded men, and the officers, all of the warrants charging assault and battery with intent to kill.

E. M. Ivey, head of an automobile company, and Herndon Thomas, salesman, the two men who were shot, are in a local hospital, and, according to physicians, their wounds are not serious unless complications set in. Ivey was shot three times, his most severe injury being a shattered knee. Thomas was shot in both arms.

They were named in warrants sworn out by the officers. A. J. Martin and J. M. Foley, of the Atlanta Constitution and the Atlanta Journal, respectively, were companions of Ivey and Thomas, but they were uninjured in the encounter.

Federal Prohibition Agent Reuben Gosnell, State Constable John McCann, and the latter's son Albert, comprised the party of officers who according to Gosnell's statement, met resistance and were fired upon by Ivey when they attempted to search the automobile in which the Atlantans were sitting beside the road, about 18 miles from here. They are named in the warrants sworn out by the tourists. Gosnell's statement admitted that no whisky was found in the search of the automobile.

Mr. Ivey, lying on his bed in the hospital, declared that he and his companions suspected the officers of being highwaymen, when one of them attempted to seize a canteen of water from the front seat of the automobile and grappled with him, calling to the others for help. The first shots, he said, were fired by the officers, and he said he returned the fire.

The shooting today occurred about nine miles from the spot where, in April of last year, a group of prohibition enforcement officers fired upon an automobile occupied by Miss Mary Bowen and Miss Rosalie Gwynn, of Asheville, asserting they thought it was a rum-running machine. Four officers and a citizen were indicted in connection with that incident and were acquitted.

Made Attempt Last Week.

It was not the first time Nolen has escaped from local officers, and only last week he attempted to break out of the penitentiary at Nashville. Nolen was brought here several days ago to testify as a witness in a federal court case. While waiting his turn to testify, he was confined in the county jail.

Nolen, a druggist by profession, recently was granted a suspension of a five-year sentence in the federal penitentiary at Atlanta, where he was sent early last year following his conviction for trafficking in narcotic drugs. The suspension was granted at the request of state and county authorities in order that Nolen might begin serving his term in the state penitentiary for forgery. With the suspended sentence a part of his penitentiary record, Nolen was ineligible to parole.

Nolen was brought to Memphis last fall to testify in a federal court case before going on to Nashville to begin his long term. While here he was placed in the custody of a deputy United States marshal, and when accompanied by his guard, was permitted to go where he chose.

One evening he attended a vaudeville theater in company with his wife and the deputy marshal. During an intermission, Nolen excused himself and walked from the theater. He was captured in New Orleans several days later and returned to Memphis, going from here to Nashville almost immediately.

Officers in nearby towns and cities were asked by Sheriff Knight to aid in an effort to apprehend the fugitives and orders went out to all officers and special agents to arrest every suspicious character.

The commission formed by the federal central executive committee to commemorate the memory of Nikolai Lenin has forbidden the use of the former premier's portrait on jewelry, candy boxes or other advertising forms.

hat, coat, shoes, socks and collar were missing when the body was found Sunday morning by a youthful blackberry picker.

Atlanta Sleuths Aiding.

Detectives E. W. Ginn and J. C. Davis, two of Atlanta's most skillful and experienced detectives, have been assigned to the case and stated Monday night that beginning today they will inaugurate a thorough investigation of every possible angle of the case, beginning with the dead man's home life, habits and other matters which might offer some tangible clue upon which to base a theory in connection with the mysterious disappearance and death of Mixon.

Special investigators attached to the office of Solicitor General John H. Boykin, of Fulton superior court, joined hands Monday with DeKalb county officers in combing every nook and corner of the terrain within a radius of several miles of where the body was found in the hope that some clue might be unearthed which would shed a new light or angle on the mysterious circumstances which led a coroner's jury to return a verdict to the effect that Mixon had met his death at the hands of "unknown party or parties."

Boykin Makes Probe.

Solicitor Boykin stated Monday that attaches of his office would investigate the theory that Mixon was slain in Fulton county and his body carried to the adjoining county and placed in the shallow waters of the creek. Captain A. J. Holcomb, of the city detective department, detailed special men to work in collaboration with DeKalb officers.

Mixon believed for several years back that he was being hunted by persons anxious to kill him. It was stated by members of his family that Mixon accepted a position several years ago during a strike in Savannah, and that often since that time he told his wife that strikers or sympathizers were "after him."

On Thursday morning as he left his home for the office, a short distance away, Mixon is said to have remarked to his wife that he was in dread of being slain that day. His wife begged him to remain at home for the day, but he persisted in going to the office.

Never Seen Again.

Soon after arriving at the office he left for the morning mail, at a nearby branch post office, as was his usual custom. He never returned and fellow employees notified the family and police and a search was immediately instituted, which ended Sunday morning in the finding of the body more than 20 miles from where he left on Thursday before.

Statements of a prominent resident of the Little Nance creek section, to the effect that a man clothed in much the same manner as was Mixon's body when found, stopped him Thursday night in the road and said he was being pursued, are being investigated by officers. Other equally as important angles and clues are being followed and officers expressed confidence Monday night that the investigation would reveal something tangible upon which to work.

Mixon is survived by his widow and three children, Mildred, aged 11, Oliver, Jr., aged 8, and George, aged 6.

"We're Last Ditchers," Delegates Tell McAdoo

New York, June 23.—William G. McAdoo, in two addresses today to delegates to the democratic national convention, renewed his assaults on the metropolitan press for what he characterized as unfair tactics and declared his confidence that victory for progressive democracy with himself as leader was as certain as though already recorded.

Both Mr. McAdoo and his campaign manager, David L. Rockwell, took cognizance of reports, published and spoken, that McAdoo is losing ground and that much of his support will be dissipated after the first few ballots. The candidate for the presidential nomination "assured" delegates from far western states, who marched to his hotel upon their arrival, that a statement that they would "betray" their trust was a libel upon them and their states.

Mr. Rockwell, at a conference with newspaper correspondents, declared that McAdoo not only had not lost any delegates, but had gained some.

Claims Reserve Strength.
"And we have a reserve strength that will surprise you," he added. "All this talk about our losing ground is pure propaganda designed to influence vacillating delegates."

Speaking to the delegates from nine western states and Hawaii and the Philippines, Mr. McAdoo told them they had not come here to "betray," but to execute a trust.

"And I know that you are going to do it," he said, "and that every other democrat in America is going to do it." This declaration brought loud cheers from the delegates and cries of "We are last ditchers."

trict of New York echoing with the cheers of marching delegates. Mr. McAdoo, taking notice of fast-flying reports that some of those pledged to him were preparing to quit the fight after the early ballots, told a group of his supporters in a public speech that no delegate had been sent to the convention "to betray a trust." Governor Smith, appearing before a crowd of thousands, to review a civic parade, was welcomed by roars of applause and acclamation by his partisans as the next president.

Convention to Shake Orders.
Most of the state delegations held caucuses to compare impressions and plan their part of the big show. The tone of most of them was one of uncertainty and speculation, but it became increasingly apparent that many who will have convention votes are disposed to make selections of their own after they have fulfilled their instructions to cast their ballots for this or that candidate on the initial roll calls. Should the deadlock be prolonged, the convention itself appears determined to take upon its own shoulders the responsibility of picking a candidate, rather than continue the stalemate indefinitely by following blindly the advice of state conventions and primaries.

The day's developments caused no change in the chain of victory over McAdoo and Smith, but there was no

MRS. BLAIR FACES FIGHT FOR PLACE

BY MAXINE DAVIS.

New York, June 23.—Smart bridge-luncheon parties are being moved into the political game. The latest idea of making the consolation prize just a little nicer than the first spoils of the tally card is entering into the fight for the position of vice chairman of the national committee.

This place is held by a woman and gives her automatically the leadership of organized democratic women. The present incumbent is Mrs. Emily Blair, of Missouri. Mrs. Kellogg Fairbanks, of Chicago, is angling for her position.

Mrs. Fairbanks wanted to be the national committeewoman from Illinois to succeed Mrs. A. L. Smith, of Chicago. She was slated for the job and fully expected to be elected, especially in view of her close political affiliation with George Brennan, the famous state boss.

But unexpected opposition arose with the downstate members of the Illinois delegation rose in their wrath at the proposition that both the committeewoman and the committeewoman from their commonwealth be chosen from the Windy City. They make little or no objection to Brennan's unassuming desire to be the national committeewoman, but in consequence of his demanding that their proper representative come from the southern or central section of Illinois.

This may have seemed reasonable to Brennan, although he did not suggest that Mrs. Fairbanks abandon her fight.

Mrs. Blair Wants Job.
At all events, he is known to be backing her plans to succeed Mrs. Blair as the vice chairman of the national committee as a consolation prize for her pending defeat in her home state.

Mrs. Blair does not wish to be succeeded by anybody, contrary to rumors that have been whispered about the Waldorf hotel since Mrs. Fairbanks' arrival. Mrs. Blair has served the committee and the democratic women for four years and her friends are phatically demanding that she be re-elected to her office, both as a reward for her work and as the most expedient step for the success of the democratic women during the campaign.

Tammany Women Pleased.
It is said that the New York women will line up for Mrs. Fairbanks as the result of the hard feeling that has existed between the Washington headquarters and the feminine element of the New York organization for some time.

This feeling has come to an absurd head over the appointment of Miss Nancy Cook and Miss Esther Ogden as secretaries of the temporary organization of the convention. These women, both from the Empire state, were appointed without the advice of Miss Elizabeth Maury, committeewoman from New York, or any other New York woman.

The New York women are hurt by this treatment, although the approach of Mrs. Blair's personal patronage, to be given for service to the national committee.

Consequently they probably will openly oppose Mrs. Blair in the many and strong, however, and Mrs. Fairbanks may not find her consolation prize so very easy to obtain.

JAN CHRISTIAN SMITS DESIGNS AS PREMIER
Capetown, Union of South Africa, June 23.—(By The Associated Press.) Jan Christian Smits, premier of the Union of South Africa, whose South African party was defeated in the recent elections, resigned the premiership today.

It was announced that General Smits, who had accepted the offer of Colonel G. M. Claassen, member of the assembly for St. Anderson, Transvaal, to resign for his seat, would not be opposed.

Canada Watches Democratic Race With Avid Eyes

Ottawa, Ont., June 23.—Canadian politics is sidetracked and the dominion is pulsating in time with the democratic convention in New York. Owing to a newspaper report circulated throughout Canada that William G. McAdoo would attempt to effect the repeal of the Fordney-McCumber tariff law if he were nominated and elected to the presidency, the United States politics is dominating popular interest in a manner unprecedented in the last 20 years.

Western Canadian progressives declare that the repeal of the present tariff legislation would provide Canada with the greatest agricultural boon of a decade. Political gossip in the federal parliament here builds up centers on McAdoo's chances and the boon his election would be to Canada.

The present United States tariff blighted Canada's agricultural export trade and especially was detrimental to the vast wheat growing belt of western Canada. The effects of the American barrier have provided a major political issue since the passage of the law and acrimonious debate in the Canadian parliament and senate often has flared about the question.

During the present session of parliament the opposition endeavored to stampede the government into erecting a retaliatory tariff on the export of pulpwood and other items required by the United States. Proponents of the tariff on exports were frank in declaring that the measure was meant in retaliation to the Fordney-McCumber duties.

HULL RECOVERING FROM OVERWORK AND PROSTRATION
New York, June 23.—Chairman Hull, of the democratic national committee, was confined to his bed today recovering from overwork, exhaustion from overwork, acute indigestion and shock from learning suddenly that the national committee had been able to pay all its debts and would enter the presidential campaign with a clean slate.

Both Smith and McAdoo Counted Out As Chiefs Organize Against Latter

KENTUCKY WILL TEST POWER OF UNIT RULE

New York, June 23.—A fight on the convention floor over the right of the Kentucky state convention to bind, under the unit rule, delegates to the democratic national convention previously selected and instructed by the state convention, was promised today by Underwood leaders in Kentucky.

The contested delegates are from the ninth district, the home district of Alexander H. Rains, who is head of the delegation which is bound by a unit rule for McAdoo.

The ninth district convention, on the day before the Kentucky state convention, instructed its two delegates for Underwood.

SHADOW OF KLAN REARS HATE HEAD

After presentation to the resolutions committee the anti-klan plank is expected to reach the floor in the shape of a minority report. McAdoo supporters claim a majority on the resolutions committee and are expected to report a plank dealing with the klan only in broad generalities endorsing freedom of religious worship. Then the anti-klan faction will present a minority report, presumably embodying a declaration along the lines of Ed Moore's statement.

Moore and other klan opponents claim the fight on the floor will produce the majority necessary to pass the anti-klan plank and insert it in the platform.

"The democratic party must destroy the Ku Klux Klan or the klan will destroy the democratic party," Moore declared Tuesday. He pointed out klan support had enabled McAdoo to carry the southern states and that in order for the democrats to win in the north and east in the fall campaign the party must come out definitely against the klan.

More fuel was thrown into the klan fire when Senator Underwood, of Alabama, who will nominate McAdoo, announced that he favored, without equivocation, a plank which would condemn the Ku Klux Klan as such and mince no words.

McAdoo Position Unchanged.
The situation, Underwood said, demanded that the democrats take a determined stand against an organization that menaced American freedom and presented the party with its latest issue. Underwood's action only intensified the bitterness over the klan controversy.

McAdoo's position remained unchanged. "There should be a reaffirmation of our insistence on the complete religious freedom, but there is no need of giving the organization so much importance by mentioning its name directly," retorted former Senator Phelan, who will nominate McAdoo, when told of Underwood's attitude.

McAdoo himself confined his utterance to another rallying cry of his delegates and a renewed attack upon the New York press.

Bryan Offers Compromise.
William J. Bryan jumped into the klan fray when he went back to 1896, the year he gained his first nomination, and drew a plank from the platform of that year which he said would meet the klan crisis. This plank, which Bryan said he would submit, reads:

"The constitution of the United States guarantees to every citizen the right of civil and religious liberty. The democratic party always has been the exponent of political liberty and religious freedom, and it renews its obligation and renews its devotion to these fundamental principles of the constitution."

Coalition of Convenience Is Formed by Warring Chiefs To Eliminate McAdoo and Smith.

BY JOHN T. LEWING, JR.

New York, June 23.—Peril to the party is seen by some democratic leaders in the combination of organization chiefs which has as its object the defeat of William G. McAdoo for the presidential nomination in this convention. "Boss rule" is the cry going up from the McAdoo forces, and these leaders see many precious votes lost to the party if the election gets the impression that the alternative to Coolidge is a boss-picked candidate.

The policy of the combination is to hold McAdoo down to the level of a party boss by the endorsement of the delegates. The endorsement is held together all of the elements opposed to McAdoo, irrespective of the candidates they separately are sponsoring, and embracing the influence of Alexander H. Rains, the klan leader of Indiana, in an allied high command, under the single banner of the "anti-klan" movement, as field marshal.

Absolute elimination of McAdoo is the objective. Should it succeed, then any other candidate would have to take his chance upon winning the nomination during the former cabinet member.

The combination believes it can hold McAdoo down to the level of a party boss by the endorsement of the delegates. The endorsement is held together all of the elements opposed to McAdoo, irrespective of the candidates they separately are sponsoring, and embracing the influence of Alexander H. Rains, the klan leader of Indiana, in an allied high command, under the single banner of the "anti-klan" movement, as field marshal.

Among the men reported to be parties to the move besides Taggart, Brennan and Moore, are Franklin D. Roosevelt, Smith's manager; Charles E. Greathouse, secretary of the conference of Alabama; and George E. Brennan, of Missouri, who will nominate McAdoo.

If the Smith forces are wholeheartedly in the coalition, it may be regarded as virtually the surrender of the party to the klan. The strength to be nominated, he would stand forth boldly and meet McAdoo single handed. But Smith cannot do that far in the corridor of the party.

Consequently the opinion of observers is that McAdoo and Smith are killing each other, and that the two most active contenders now are farther from the nomination than some "dark horse" who at this time does not know he is the prospective nominee.

McAdoo adherents say the whole plan is the work of George E. Brennan, certainly the most astute democratic organizer in the nation since the death of Charles F. Murphy, of Tammany Hall, and they figure him as the actual directing hand.

LINDQUIST IS CHOSEN HEAD OF ENGINEERS

Cleveland, Ohio, June 23.—C. E. Lindquist, of Louisville, today was elected general secretary of the American Association of Locomotive Engineers in convention here and will make his headquarters in Cleveland.

The engineers also decided to form a national legislative corps and will select its three members from the grand officers of the brotherhood. The corps will make its headquarters in Washington and will concern itself with legislation affecting railroad matters.

Officials today said they now think it improbable either Senators George Norris, of Nebraska, or Robert M. La Follette, of Wisconsin, will find opportunity to come here to address the convention.

means center, moreover, that all the McAdoo delegates will support the general plank on the klan, especially the press of the state and the Federation of Women's Clubs.

BRENNAN NAMED HEAD OF ILLINOIS COMMITTEE

New York, June 23.—George E. Brennan was unanimously elected democratic national committeeman from Illinois at the caucus today of the Illinois delegates to the democratic national convention.

The Illinois gathering, which was delayed more than an hour by a contest for committee places, met after the third annual meeting Monday and was a harmony gathering from beginning to end the Brennan organization selections taking every post.

Mrs. Kellogg Fairbanks, of Chicago, was elected national committeewoman, succeeding Mrs. Anna L. Smith, also of Chicago.

Definite Forestry Program Adopted At Meeting Monday

Adoption of a definite legislative program, embodied in two bills which will be presented to the Georgia legislature at its coming session, featured the third annual meeting Monday of the Georgia Forestry association.

The first bill is a substitute for senate bill 108, which was introduced at the last session of the legislature and tabled because of lack of time for its consideration. It provides for creation of a license tax on various industries handling lumber products, the tax to be collected by a state forester and his assistants, and spent by him under the supervision of the state board of foresters. The state forester is also to have charge of forest fire prevention.

The second bill is aimed to encourage reforestation by allowing the creation of contracts fixing a uniform tax on land which is being reforested for the period during which the trees are growing, and then levying 10 per cent of the stumpage value of the timber cut at the expiration of the contract.

Approve Education Program.
In conjunction with the legislative program, the association approved an educational program to instruct children in the public schools as well as the farmers and timber owners of the state on the value of timber and the tremendous loss caused by reckless destruction.

"The two programs go hand in hand and supplement each other," said President Bonnell Stone at the dinner given Monday evening in honor of the members of the legislature. "If the people of Georgia knew the value of their timber, and how much time and labor it takes to replace it, they would be more careful with it."

The opinion expressed by Dugree Barrett, recently appointed forestry extension agent for the State College of Agriculture, "Meanwhile, a law must be enacted to protect the Georgia lumber from ruthless destruction while its owners are being awakened to its possibilities."

Several speakers stressed the material value of forestry preservation and reforestation, which they thought, might appeal to the business men of the state more than the purely aesthetic argument.

"The sawmill men are with us," said Mr. Barrett, "for they realize that unless the trees are replaced they are cutting themselves out of a job. It is a mistake to think that there are enough trees left to last the rest of our lifetimes; and even if there are, we have no right to use them unless we have the means to replace them for our children."

Old Officers Re-elected.
Resolutions were adopted thanking all organizations co-operating with the Georgia Forestry association, especially the press of the state and the Federation of Women's Clubs.

Annual elections Monday evening resulted in the re-election of all incumbents, who are: H. Bonnell Stone, Blairville, president; A. V. Wood, Brunswick, first vice-president; Mrs. W. W. Stark, Commerce, second vice-president; James W. Morton, Athens, third vice-president; Mrs. Albert E. Thornton, Atlanta, fourth vice-president; C. R. Harman, Atlanta, treasurer; and H. L. Kerton, Secretary.

Most of the day was taken up with round-table discussion of the measures which were formally adopted at the dinner Monday evening. Governor and Mrs. Walker were introduced at the Monday luncheon, sponsored by the Fifth-Hundredth Women's Club, and pledged their hearty co-operation to the association.

—Convention Notes—

New York, June 23.—Most of the New York morning newspapers in their convention editorials today deal chiefly with platform problems. The World, however, vigorously assails the candidacy of William G. McAdoo for the presidential nomination and declares for Governor Alfred E. Smith as the leader of "the best interests of the democratic party."

The "possibility of victory and the right of victory" says The World, depends upon the fight being waged by Governor Smith. The Herald-Tribune describes the league of nations, the Ku Klux Klan and prohibition as issues which are "as unrelated to reality in this year of 1924 as Mr. McAdoo's spottish robe of righteous liberalism." The Times finds "much better reasons" for a party declaration in favor of American entrance into the league of nations that existed in 1920, while The American, calling for a "return to the faith," says "the party must free itself from every taint of booze and boodle."

When he was asked today whether he expected to make any speeches in the convention William Jennings Bryan replied:

"I am like a volunteer fireman. I hope there will be no alarm, but I am ready to fight a conflagration. I am sleeping in my clothes."

With the Georgia delegation to the convention comes Jim Democrat, a negro who claims the distinction of having fetched the doctor when William G. McAdoo was born, and a negro mammy who nursed Mr. McAdoo when he was a baby. Both say they predicted he would be president some day.

Senator "Pat" Harrison, keynoter, was missing last night from his hotel. Some said he was out practicing his keynote speech. Others said he was not where he was. It developed that he had simply fled from button-holing friends who wanted to talk to him, and had gone on to a quiet sleeping place "forty minutes from Broadway."

There are no "second choice" candidates at this convention if leaders of delegations boosting particular candidates are to be taken at their word. They are all going to keep on voting for favorite candidates to the end of time, to hear them tell it. Nobody from these delegations has yet admitted having given thought to a second choice vote.

In the midst of the crowd in the corridors of the Waldorf-Astoria last night, a "part" party formed which passed unrecognized by many of the democratic delegates and politicians. In the party was prohibition Commissioner R. A. Haynes, E. C. Yellowley, chief of prohibition agents, and Izzy Einstein, who had the ear of his chief for frequent whispered conversations.

The Alabama delegation, in caucus today, voted to uphold the unit rule and to carry out "until the show is over."

Sudden Disaster Awaits Those Who Procrastinate

You know the "saddest words of tongue or pen"—"it might have been." Imagine a healthy father suddenly denied work for seven and a half weeks; expenses piled up by reason of his enforced stay at home; no cash money coming into the family treasury.

That's what happened to B. C. Fowler, of 231 Ogletowne avenue, Atlanta, who was injured in an auto and street car accident on April 17, 1924, near the corner of Gordon and Lee streets. He was riding in a jitney bus, which was struck by a street car, the jitney bus being overturned, breaking his arm and shoulder. He was totally disabled about seven and one-half weeks.

Fortunate for Mr. Fowler, he was protected under the provisions of the $10,000 Travel and Pedestrian Accident Insurance policy which he held with The Constitution. The policy cost him $1 per year in addition to regular subscription rates of The Daily and Sunday Constitution. Under its provisions he was entitled to protection to the extent of $1,000 against death in certain specified accidents; varying sums for injuries, and $10 weekly indemnity for disability.

As stated above, he was disabled for seven and a half weeks—and on June 10 he received a check for $74.20. This check for $74.20 was what he realized on an investment of only $1. He is cashing it at a time when it was doubly needed.

In line with its travel and pedestrian accident offer, The Constitution is also offering the reading public its famous $500 Group Read Life Insurance policy, the only straight life offer made by an Atlanta newspaper. It costs only at the rate of 15 or 20 cents per week—depending on the risk involved—in addition to the regular subscription rates of The Daily and Sunday Constitution, and its protection remains in force so long as the policy-holder keeps up payments both on the policy and on his Constitution subscription.

The same of one or both of these great protective opportunities cannot fail to appeal to you. The future comfort of your loved ones depends upon you—take this tip:

"Phone, write or visit The Constitution's insurance department, and full particulars will cheerfully be supplied you. Over $20,000 worth of Constitution subscribers through its insurance department.—(adv.)"

TODAY'S CONVENTION.

The national democratic convention, which opens today in New York, has centered in it probably more direct interest than any convention ever held by the "party of the masses." This is chiefly due to the spirit of optimism prevailing among the democratic leaders throughout the country as a result of the widespread dissatisfaction with the conduct of governmental affairs during the past three or four years, and to the widely differing characteristics and beliefs of the various candidates.

It is not without reason that the democratic party has been called the party of the masses. Fundamentally it rests on that indestructible basis of liberal government, trust of the people and a carrying out of the people's will.

During the convention debates will undoubtedly wax furious and fiery oratory sweep the solid ranks, but in the heat of the battle, in the roaring of contending factions, the banners of the people will go marching through the thunderstorm.

That fact is determined before the convention opens. For a democratic convention is truly American, having as its basic purpose the good of the country as a whole.

It is therefore with tranquility that the country is able to look to New York today.

For the next few days the eyes of the whole nation are on New York. Not least of all the eyes of the leaders of the opposing party. They know the strength of the democratic appeal this year. They know that from New York may come a whirlwind campaign motto, an unexpected sally from one of the democratic orators, that will sweep the forces of reaction into the background.

After a day, or so of preliminary arrangements, the lines of demarcation will gradually become more distinct, there will be legitimate political maneuvering, attempts at coups d'etat, till finally the nominee is chosen.

The candidates, without exception, are blue-blooded Americans, men who have made their mark in life, who combine ability with integrity. It is now only a question of the delegates selecting from among them the man who would in their judgment best serve all the people as chief executive of the nation.

For the office to which a candidate must be chosen, there must come not a partisan puppet, but a man who stands above party and whose ideal is to serve the best interests of the country as a whole. Not a sectionalist, but a totalist, a leader whose aim will be government by the people for the people of the United States.

"I've had my trial," said the investigated one, "and now I'm free to run for anything that looks good to me."

The Indianapolis News says that "the man who has had no chance to

SLAY THE WEEVIL.

Reports come from various parts of the state that the boll weevil is emerging in force. The county farm agent of Morgan county, for instance, reports that he has found the pest in all parts of that county, and what is true of Morgan is probably true of many other cotton-growing counties.

It is therefore more than ever important that aggressive and exterminating warfare be waged on the weevil by every possible means and that no time be lost. It is a well-known fact that the destruction of a small number of weevils now may prevent the breeding of vast swarms of them later in the season. Also the cotton squares which are saved from damage now have the opportunity to develop rapidly to maturity before the emigration season when the weevils begin to fly and invade territory beyond their breeding grounds.

If the weevils are killed now they will be out of the way for many weeks and the early crop of squares will mature and open with a fully-developed yield, and thus a certain amount of cotton will be obtained by the farmer regardless of the degree of damage which may come to his crop when the weevils begin to fly at the close of the summer.

In view of the importance of the cotton crop to Georgia—the tremendous part it plays in the prosperity of all classes of our citizens—it is clear that every possible effort should be put forth by the cotton growers now to check the inroads of the weevil, and in this warfare on the pest the farmer should have the unlimited cooperation and support of the banker, merchant and business man of every character. Local boards of trade or other organizations can be of great service here by providing means to fight the weevil and by suggestion and stimulation of effort.

UNCONQUERED EVEREST.

Somewhere beyond the Himalayan clouds, wrapped in the biting atmosphere of 29,000 feet elevation above the limpid waters of the Indian ocean, stands the storm-swept summit of Mount Everest, unconquered and unknown.

There is a certain poignancy in the news that the hardy little band of explorers which started March 27 on the long and hazardous climb up the mountain not only failed to reach the top, but that in the loss of two members of the party, still more lives have been added to the long list of heroic names which have glorified British history, and another chapter recorded in the ever-lengthening catalogue of defeat—a defeat, in this instance, which took place nearer the coveted goal than any other human footsteps had ever attained.

For countless ages this mighty mountain, swathed in the majesty of its cloud-wrapped mystery, has appealed powerfully to the imagination, and stirred deeply the spirit of adventure in the hearts of men, and nowhere has this call of the unknown and the unconquered found a more ready and heroic response than in England—the home of Captain Cook, Sir John Franklin, Scott and Shackleton.

It is announced that since this, the third attempt made in the last few years to reach the summit of the mountain, has failed, no further efforts will be made by the association which sponsored these. It is safe to say, however, that in time other men, filled with the heroic spirit of adventure, will take up the matter, and in future the new unknown summit of Everest will surrender its mystery to the sum of human knowledge.

DECATUR'S WATER.

The city of Decatur is to be congratulated on the recent completion of its new water plant—a plant built along modern and approved lines—and which has a capacity almost double the city's present consumption.

An ample supply of good water for drinking purposes is a vital thing in the life of any community, and the obtaining of this presents a serious problem to many important and ambitious municipalities. This is especially true of towns located in tidalwater regions or on high table lands and mountain deserts.

Decatur, whose rapid growth during the past few years has attracted widespread attention, is fortunate in having an abundance of water in easy reach, and is to be commended for its enterprise in providing the required means and erecting a water plant amply adequate to its needs for a number of years to come.

In all the recent turmoil in English politics nothing has happened to jar the serenity of the Hon. Sir Loin Steak.

They did some swift running from that vice presidential nomination, but they finally roped Dawes in.

A western exchange says that with the graduation exercises, the country is hearing some real speeches—at last.

With so many fences to repair, a summer vacation must seem like real work to home-coming congressmen.

BRACKES
No matter how much gas you give your car, you are going to have a difficult time getting far with it if you leave the brakes on.
Besides, held by the brakes, your tires would soon be ruined.
You would call the one who tried to run his car with the brakes on something akin to a fool. Yet there are people who meet every day in the year who persist in trying to run their lives with the brakes on.
And the result in both cases is the same—something is going to wear out.
When you do something for which you have no love or desire, you work with the brakes on. When you work and fret and live day after day in a state of uncertainty because you don't know where you are going or why you are here, you are certainly using the brakes on your life.
Brakes are for emergencies only. But as brakes are the most necessary things that a car can have, so the brakes of the mind are the most necessary things for us in the living of our lives.
It's the knowing when to use them that counts.

The related life is not only the strong and healthy life but the efficient one. For so delicately and wonderfully are we made that the more fit we keep our body machines, the easier it is to let strain and trouble when it comes.
Just the minute you feel yourself going down hill, put on the brakes. And put them on soon enough—there may be a sharp curve ahead that you don't see now!

BITS OF NEW YORK LIFE

BY O. O. MINTYRE

New York, June 23.—The studio of Neyna McMein, popular magazine illustrator, is a lodestone for New York's reigning celebrities. It is a comfortable, somewhat shabby little place, the Cat in the Hat remains there long enough and the world drifts in and out.

Miss McMein, her friends say, is a beautiful, grave and slightly soiled. Her fair hair all aflutter in a colored dust. She has made a small town of New York.

Picture a not unusual afternoon in Miss McMein's West Fifty-Seventh street studio—Jacobs Heffetz and Arthur Samuels at the piano, Clare Briggs, Bud Fisher and Ring Lardner squating on an ottoman playing cold hands. Mary Pickford and Edna St. Vincent Millay discussing poetry.

Scattered about on the divans are Chaplin and Chaplin, F. P. A., Karland hosts. Connelly, the young playwrights, Swope of the World, Bencherly, Edna Ferber—and perhaps Miller Huggins. All the while Miss McMein is eying the beautiful model perched on a stool before her. When day has dwindled to dusk, Miss McMein doffs her smock and joins the guests. She is a most excellent story teller and an expert listener. She is a consistent first nighter also, yet with all her activities she finds time to keep her work at a high standard.

Her husband, John Barsgwanath, is a handsome black haired young man with an engaging personality. All the day he is immersed in the mighty whirl of business.

THE WORLD'S WINDOW

BY PIERRE VAN PAASSEN

"Les Miserables" In Reality.

Victor Hugo's immortal creation, Jean Valjean, has come to life with all its tragic details. The name of the amazing replica of the dramatic "motif" of Les Miserables is Jean Hateau. He was left as a founding member of an apocalyptic colony of Devil's island for robbery. His crimes were all undertaken to satisfy the whims of a beautiful young woman of the hideous West. His exile from Devil's island on a raft was a combination of terror, miracle and desperation. Five of his comrades perished of thirst. He landed in Panama. He worked. He went straight and saved money. When the war broke out he went back to France and enlisted under a strange name. He served in the trenches. He was a Dames and the summer. After the war he settled in Metz and started a toy factory. One day he ran foul of the law in a very American way—he was fined for speeding. But he was fined for speeding. But he was fined for speeding. But he was fined for speeding.

When a picture reaches a receiving antenna it is carried to a radio receiver. This again is connected with a special apparatus which transforms the wireless waves into light waves, which in turn are thrown on a special screen in a camera-like box.

Man Soaring Aloft Like the Eagle.

What conquests are there yet before us? To what tremendous heights will man yet rise? Word comes from Vienna that Joseph Boehm, an electrical engineer, has perfected a radio device which enabled him to see his own face as he flew in the air. He saw the Vienna people give "Luxembourg," while seated in his home in Schoenbrunn. This, in short, is the way he described his invention to reporters on the radio. He saw the Vienna people give "Luxembourg," while seated in his home in Schoenbrunn. This, in short, is the way he described his invention to reporters on the radio.

On the Old Path.

This is what General Berthold von Deimling writes in the Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung: "THE WAR OF THE FUTURE WILL BE CONDUCTED BEYOND THE FRONT AGAINST THE PEOPLE AT HOME. PARTICULARLY ROME, AGAINST THE BIG CITIES, WILLY AND CHILDREN. WILL BE KILLED BY THE THOUSANDS AND MILLIONS TO PREVENT A FUTURE WAR OF REVENGE. THERE WILL BE SUPREMACY AND THERE WILL BE SUPREMACY. THAT WAR WILL NOT BE ENDED BY AN ARMISTICE AND A PEACE TREATY, BUT BY A BRADICATION, TOTAL EXTERMINATION OF THE ENEMY PEOPLE." We seem to be slipping back to the days of the third Punic war when Carthage was leveled to the ground and its inhabitants fastened to the old path. There is a fantastic increase in armaments. But above all there is a dangerous sentiment of revenge. And to think that twenty million men were blasted away in the war that was to end all wars and that the blood of countless millions is yet crying to heaven because they could not be!

Foster and the Farmers.

William Z. Foster and his associates of the workers' party captured the farmer-laborer convention. That was not surprising. The communists are adroit manipulators when it comes to intrigue and railroad at conventions. Think what that job will be in Moscow. "It will cause Karl Radek and George Zinovieff to go into raptures about the progress of the revolution in America. It will be a duplication of the well-known Winnipeg strike in 1919, when Die Rote Fahne, official journal of the communist group in Germany, pictured Canada as the exact pattern of bolshevist Russia. But the people on the American continent knew better; they did not overestimate the significance of the 'Comrade Foster and the workers' party' success of the masses. Unable to form a program in the United States from the industrial workers in the cities, they seek alliances with the farmers. Yet they must know that the farmer is the strongest bulwark against the revolution in America. The recent history has proven in the case of France, Germany, Finland, Bulgaria and Hungary. Especially—Hungary. The communists are not forget Hungary and the 75,000 dead communists, killed by the agrarian whites.

"Kaiser and Beer" An Illusion.

From the versatile pen of Maximilian Harden, forceful and fearless German writer, comes a little speculation about the future of the reich. He says that the time is ripe for assassinations and coups d'etat. The reason? The parties who were victorious in the last elections, the social democrats and the nationalists, have no representation in the cabinet. In other words, the expressed will of the German people is being ignored. This is a danger and may be the signal for underground outbreaks. To the junkers the republicans are still a wine-dregs and they

YOUTHS FOUND GUILTY OF KILLING JEWELER

Baltimore, Md., June 23.—Claude Dobbs, 19; George Gross, 20, and Charles Mullen, 24, of Baltimore, and Thomas J. Foran, 17, of Philadelphia, were today found guilty of first degree murder in the slaying of Louis Cohen, an East Baltimore street jeweler. The youths were convicted of shooting Cohen as he attempted to prevent the robbery of his store on May 13, last, when four boy bandits snatched the show window glass away with nearly $5,000 worth of gems. Dobbs was designated as the actual slayer of Cohen.

Sentence was deferred, pending motion for a new trial. The conviction carries the death penalty by hanging, or life imprisonment at the discretion of the court.

Foran was arrested in Philadelphia. The other three were captured near Frederickburg, Va. They had driven as far as North Carolina in an automobile alleged to have been stolen and were returning north when apprehended as suspicious characters by Frederickburg police.

Washington, June 23.—Ladislas Wroblewski, minister of finance, laid before the Polish parliament today a proposal for refunding the $185,000,000 Polish debt to the United States.

CREOSOTE INHALATIONS IN BRONCHITIS.

Creosote vapor inhalations were in general use in the treatment of lung tuberculosis in a few years ago. At present, creosote or some derivative of creosote is given internally in some cases of tuberculosis, and the inhalations are more commonly employed nowadays in the treatment of chronic bronchitis, particularly bronchiectasis (dilatation of bronchi) and bronchitis (excessive mucous flow from bronchi). When there is noticeable fetor or disagreeable odor in such cases the creosote inhalations will usually overcome it.

Creosote is a mixture of phenols, chiefly guaiacol and cresol, obtained from the distillation of wood tar. Beechwood creosote is usually preferred for medicinal uses. From the chemical point of view, creosote is a mixture of creosol, which is an antiseptic. One of the constituents, cresol, is the essential part of some of the most useful disinfectants. Creosote is poisonous, it must also be remembered, nearly as poisonous as carbolic acid is.

The use of creosote inhalations in the class of bronchitis cases referred to is properly called creosote vapor therapy, for it amounts to a bath, and like all other baths except plain air baths, it is not to be taken lightly. The absorption of a slight excess of creosote is likely to irritate the kidneys, through which it is eliminated.

A small room should be cleared of furniture except a stool or wooden chair on plain table. The room should be kept at a temperature of 60° to 70° F. The patient should wear a suit of overalls or a surgical gown to protect his clothing. The eyes must be protected with a well-fitting mask. The nostrils should be plugged with cotton. A woman should protect her hair with a bathing cap. Four a tablespoonful of creosote into a metal vessel and set it on a bracket or stand over an alcohol lamp or bunsen burner. The creosote vapor rises in dense fumes which will fill the room. The game is to see how long you can stand it. The vapor makes you cough violently and probably you will expectorate profusely. That's part of the game, we're playing, you understand. No matter though, as long as it doesn't bring on, or emesis. We don't intend to rob you of your sleep, certainly not a pleasant process—well, for that matter, what bath, except a nice air bath, is pleasant? But it is usually followed by a good relief, both in the breathing and in the cough and expectoration. Ten minutes is a long bath, at first. As you get accustomed to it you can increase the quantity of creosote used, every alternate day, even an hour if possible. The fumes, if present, soon disappear under this treatment. The quantity of expectoration becomes greatly diminished. Keep it up for a month or two, and then rest off for a few months.

Creosote may be inhaled in the steam bath or from boiling water, placing a teaspoonful or less in a quart of boiling water in pitcher or inhaler and carefully protecting the eyes and nostrils with a well-fitting mask. A simple apparatus known as a group kettle is useful for this purpose.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Increase of Stature.

I am anxious you to give information or advice as to growing tall in height. Is there anything as yet discovered to stunt the growth or any book subject to that effect? I am 13 years old, 13 years old, five feet four inches in height and underweight. (Miss S. R.)

ANSWER—Nothing is known which will increase, diminish or prevent growth. You need another inch of height to become a perfect woman. In certain cases of retarded growth and defective gland treatment over a period of a year or two by the physician has appeared to do good. You're a little ahead on weight, but you'll be right when you acquire more weight.

Fruitful for Children.

Is it advisable to give a child under two years of age fresh strawberries, cherries, raspberries or peaches? At what age may children begin to eat raw fruits and vegetables? (Mrs. W. E. C.)

ANSWER—No, but the fruit juices are all right for children a year old. The pulp of peaches, stewed, is all right for children over a year old. The seeds must be removed and only the soft pulp given. The seeds in berries make them unsuitable for children under three. Usually the age of fruit is better given only cooked fruits up to that age.

How-Legged Little Boy.

I have a little boy 18 months old who is a cripple. He has no legs. What can I do to straighten his legs and make him walk right? I have been rubbing his legs and feet on the inside from heel to toe, but see no change. (Mrs. M. E. G.)

ANSWER—It may not be too late even now to derive some benefit from correction of the child's legs. The use of splints which are worn for a year or more will often straighten bow-legs, but this, as well as the use of a brace, requires the attention of a physician. Massage or rubbing is of no avail; voluntary exercise, play in the open air and sunshine help to correct the trouble. (Copyright, 1924, for The Constitution.)

Wild Roses

On long, serene midsummer days
Of ripening fruit and yellow grain,
How sweetly, by dim wooded ways,
Fair wild-rose thickets, you unfold
Those pale pink stars with hearts of gold!

Your sleek patrician sisters dwell
On lawns where gleams the shrub's
In terraced gardens, tended well.
Near pebbled walk and quaint brook.
In costliest urns their colors rest
And beauty's fragrant breath is sweet!

But you in lowly calm abide,
Scarce heeded save by breeze or bee:
You know what splendor, pomp and Full of your brilliant sisters see:
What sorrow, too, and bitter fears;
What mad farewells and hopeless tears.

How some are kept in old, dark books,
That once in bridal wreaths were worn;
How some are kissed, with tender looks,
And later tossed aside with scorn;
How some their taintless petals lay
On icy foreheads, pale as they!

So, while these truths you vaguely guess,
A bloom in many a lonesome spot,
Sheds its red roses, red as blood,
The fate that rules your mortal lot.
Like rustic maids that meekly stand
Below the ladies of their land!

DAIRYMEN TO GET TIME EXTENSION

Owners of commercial dairies within the city limits are to be given an extension of time to September 1 to comply with the new ordinance limiting them to three cows, and technical errors in the contract for Edgewood avenue repaving are to be corrected at a special meeting of city council called for 3 o'clock this afternoon.

The dairy ordinance was adopted at the first regular June session of council requiring immediate removal of all commercial dairies to locations outside the city limits. Owners of dairies protested that the ordinance would force sale of their stock at unfair prices and Alderman W. B. Duval, chairman of the sanitary committee, announced Monday that he would introduce an amendment making the ordinance effective September 1.

Another amendment permits dairies within the city limits if they are located on ten acres or more of land not used for any other purpose. The exclusion was proposed for sanitary purposes and members of the sanitary committee decided that the ordinance of land would protect residents from sanitary risks.

MacDougald Construction company recently was awarded the contract for Edgewood avenue repaving on two separate bids, one covering the work from Courtland to Boulevard and another from Pryor to Courtland. City Attorney Mayson ruled that two separate contracts would be necessary to make the arrangement legal. Officials of the construction company stated that they were prepared to proceed with paying immediately on passage of the corrective measures through council today.

The street has been torn up over part of its length since last winter when the county began widening it to put it in readiness for repaving.

Mayor Walter A. Sims' call for the special meeting today was general in nature and will permit introduction of any new measures in which members of council are interested.

M'Lendon Anxious To Retain Charge Of Auto Licenses

Secretary of State S. Guyt McLen don urged the legislature in his annual report not to impair the efficiency of his office by removing administration of the motor vehicle license tax system from its jurisdiction.

The report, given out Monday, shows that but for the added revenue available from the administration of the auto license department, the secretary of state's department would be unable to adequately function, under the appropriation provided for it.

The report shows that the income for the past four years was $7,610, 907.26, and for the first five months of 1924, $2,156,406.08. Expenses for this period have been $2.2 per cent, which covers all costs of collections. The act establishing the motor vehicle license provides that total expenses of collection shall not exceed 15 per cent.

SLATE PLANS BILL FOR REIMBURSEMENT

Samuel J. Slate, state auditor, will ask the general assembly at its forthcoming session, to appropriate approximately $8,000 to reimburse him for personal funds expended in financing establishment of the state auditing department and its maintenance.

This department was created at the special session of the legislature last fall, but no money was appropriated for its maintenance. Mr. Slate has, therefore, financed it out of his personal funds and has now prepared a measure providing for his reimbursement.

The appropriation asked, Mr. Slate points out, will cover the period from February 1 to August 1, after which the legislature will be left to judge how much shall be appropriated for the department's maintenance.

The money spent, about $5,000 has been for salaries and about $3,000 for traveling and expenses of the auditors, who are required to visit every county, and make complete audits of its accounts.

MISS RUTH BLAIR NAMED HISTORIAN OF STATE MONDAY

Miss Ruth Blair was named by the state historical commission Monday as successor to Dr. Lucien Lamar Knight in the post of state historian. Miss Blair has been assistant in the office of the department of history and archives for three years, and she becomes historian when Dr. Knight's resignation, recently presented, goes into effect on January 1, 1925.

Prior to her work with this department, Miss Blair was for four years an assistant in the state library. She has been active in assembling historical information concerning Georgia and its history, and Dr. Knight strongly recommended her for the place in his final report. Miss Blair is a sister of Judge D. W. Blair, judge of the Blue Ridge circuit of the superior court.

In accepting Dr. Knight's resignation, the commission paid high tribute to the work he has done and his devotion to the duties of the office. They elected him state historian emeritus for life and asked that he give the department the benefit of his experience and knowledge, even after he has left the office. This Dr. Knight gladly agreed to do.

The state historical commission is composed of Governor Clifford Walker, Commissioner of Agriculture J. J. Brown, State Treasurer W. J. Speer, Attorney General George M. Napier, Secretary of State S. Guyt McLen don, Commissioner of Pensions C. E. McFerguson, Comptroller General W. A. Wright and Tax Commissioner H. J. Fullbright.

CLEVELAND JURY STILL DEADLOCKED

Mobile, Ala., June 23.—The jury in the case of Thomas W. Cleveland, held the only justification for the killing of a Negro, and the jury was still deadlocked.

Lessing, an aged resident of this county, asked to be discharged this afternoon because of his failure to reach a verdict. Judge Joel W. Goldstein, trial judge on the case, told them that he could not discharge them and they were ordered locked up. The jury has been out 73 hours. Foreman William T. Butler told the jury that they were hopelessly disagreed on a matter of fact.

This is the fourth trial of the Cleveland case, three former hearings resulting in mistrials.

LYNCHBURG PLANS TO ACT AS HOST FOR MERCHANTS

Encouraged by the success of last year's "At Home Week," when merchants gathered in Lynchburg, the Lynchburg Manufacturers' and Wholesalers' association has mapped out a most elaborate program of entertainment for "buyers' week" which will be held this year, July 21-26 inclusive.

One of the features this year will be a full day's trip to Natural Bridge, one of the wonders of the world. All expenses including dinner at the Natural Bridge hotel will be paid by the association.

The annual exposition and pageant of progress which made a big hit last year will be put on again this year on a much larger scale. This embraces special vaudeville features, and other attractions to be announced later.

Secretaries of the Manufacturers and Wholesalers' association, D. B. Ryland, who is the official spokesman, says that those who attended last year will be back this year in large numbers and will bring their friends with them.

NEW TRIAL MOTION IS FILED IN BEHALF OF J. E. CHANDLER

A formal motion for new trial was filed by Attorneys W. Paul Carpenter and Swift Tyler in Fulton superior court Monday in behalf of J. E. Chandler, Jr., 19-year-old boy, convicted Friday of murder with a recommendation of mercy and sentenced to life imprisonment in the killing of Henry Askew. Judge G. H. Howard set the motion for hearing August 16.

An amended motion, in which will appear the main grounds why a new trial is asked, will be filed when the stenographer transcribes his shorthand notes of the testimony.

The defense did not offer any evidence, nor did the defendant make a statement. The state introduced witnesses to prove that Chandler stabbed Askew to death after the two alighted from an automobile. It was claimed an altercation took place prior to the stabbing regarding one of the men's hats being lost.

The train, carrying grand representatives and members of the Atlanta lodge, will leave here Monday morning, July 7, over the Central of Georgia railway, stopping at Griffin, Macon, Fort Valley, Montezuma and Americus for other delegates.

PERMIT RAILROAD ACROSS FLORIDA

Washington, June 23.—The Florida Western & Northern railroad today won its fight before the interstate commerce commission for authority to build a line of road from West Palm Beach across the state of Florida.

The authority was granted on condition that construction be started before July 1, and completed by December 31, 1925. The road's petition for permission to retain excess earnings was denied.

Cost of construction of the line was estimated by the road at $6,237,911, with gifts and grants estimated at $1,000,000.

The commission warned against an overproduction of fruits and vegetables in Florida as a result of the building of the new road, but cited development of other Florida interests as justification for the new line.

Eastman Dissents. Commissioner Eastman, dissenting, held that the only justification for the building of the road was that it would be a valuable extension of the Seaboard Air Line road, and urged that the authority be withheld until the question could be given more consideration.

The Seaboard Air Line road has already applied to the interstate commerce commission for permission to build the new construction, and to take over the project at its completion.

The Atlantic Coast Line and the Florida East Coast railway, answering the commission's questionnaire several months ago, stated that conditions in Florida did not warrant construction of the line, but at a hearing held later in Florida, no protest was made.

SUMMER STORM IN MISSISSIPPI VALLEY

Chicago, June 23.—One of the worst summer storms in years swept almost the entire upper Mississippi River valley late yesterday, taking at least four lives and doing hundreds of thousands of dollars property damage.

Nebraska, South Dakota, Minnesota and Illinois were hit by the high winds and hard rains. Three persons were killed in Chicago and one in Minnesota.

Possibly the most serious menace to Chicago followed, the storm in threatened pollution of the drinking water supply. The storm reversed the Calumet river and caused sewage to be poured into Lake Michigan.

The steamer Sanguine was disabled far out in the lake with 700 passengers aboard, but rode out the storm with rescue craft brought along by S. O. S. Air.

A fleet of sailing yachts was caught off shore and a half dozen were forced to run before the gale with bare poles. Six gunmen air mail planes were wrecked at Omaha, Neb., when the roof was blown off their hangar and the walls caved in. Two planes in far corners of the hangar were not damaged.

Southwestern Minnesota seemed to bear the brunt of the storm in that state. One man was killed near Tracy, near which hundreds of farms were hard hit. St. Peter suffered considerably from the storm, which attained the proportions of a tornado in a fifty-mile sweep from Lake Benton to Lambert.

In Chicago the torrential downpour, accompanied by wind of nearly forty miles an hour, flooded streets, tore down wires, and seriously impeded traffic.

The storm caught a foursome at the Olympia Fields Country club, killing a caddy and injuring another caddy and three players. A city fireman was killed by lightning, and a janitor attempting to close a window, fell eleven floors to his death.

Thousands of persons thronging the parks and beaches in anticipation of a temperature of above 90 as predicted by the weather bureau were caught in the storm.

A panic ensued when a circus tent collapsed in South Chicago and caught a thousand persons, mostly children, under the wet canvas.

MELLON'S TESTIMONY OFF UNTIL THURSDAY

New York, June 23.—Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, who had been subpoenaed to testify tomorrow at the trial of Gaston B. Means and Elmer W. Jerrold in the federal court here on charges of violating the prohibition law, will not take the witness stands until Thursday. It was agreed by both sides today. The press of official duties today made it inconvenient for Mr. Mellon to appear before Thursday, it was explained.

Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, special deputy attorney general in charge of prohibition enforcement, came from Washington today to assist the government. She may take the witness stand later in the trial. Means, formerly a special agent of the department of justice, testified on Friday that he had been authorized by her to investigate conditions in New York.

TO ASK AMERICA TO JOIN PARLEY

London, June 23.—(By The Associated Press.)—Prime Minister MacDonald told the house of commons this afternoon that his conference with Premier Herriot of France was preliminary to an inter-allied conference to meet in London, probably July 16.

The communique issued last night covered the ground of the conversation, said the premier, but he added: "It is highly desirable that America should be represented at the inter-allied conference of July 16. We are not at the moment in communication, but a communication to that effect will be made to the American government at once."

Regarding representation of Germany at the conference, Mr. MacDonald said this was discussed, but it was quite obvious it was first essential there should be agreement between the allies as to what they were prepared to do to put the experts' report into effect.

"It is felt," he continued, "that certain of the obligations imposed on Germany by the experts' report are somewhat outside the obligations imposed by the treaty of Versailles, and the question that remains for consultation with Belgium and Italy in pursuance of the consultations we had this week-end, is how best we can make Germany willing partner in sharing these obligations. The exact form is unsettled, but it is under consideration."

"The business of the inter-allied conference will be the Dawes report," Mr. MacDonald went on. "As soon as the Dawes report is put into operation, as soon as all the machinery is arranged for in order to put the report into operation and is in active operation, obviously we shall proceed to the right and to arrange other outstanding questions between France and ourselves, including the inter-allied debts. But I hope the house will be perfectly clear about this, as I am clear about it, that there is not going to be any mixing up of the inter-allied debt question with the putting of the Dawes' report into operation."

NO COMMENT AT WASHINGTON. Washington, June 23.—Beyond that statement as yet no invitation had been received for the participation of the United States or for its views on the proposed inter-allied conference on the Dawes reparations plan. Government officials here today continued to withhold authorized comment on the subject.

There was no indication either at the state department or white house that any departure was to be expected from the right and restrained policy not to participate in European discussions in order that the hands of the United States might be free when the moment arrived for active cooperation.

The American government as a matter of course would be expected to be represented in some way at any meeting such as that proposed by the British and French premiers, it was said, but the degree of formality which would attach to its representation would not be determined until the purpose and scope of the conference had been more definitely declared.

A coincidence in connection with the meeting is that it will take place about the time Secretary Hughes has planned to visit London to attend the meetings of the American Bar association. His visit, however, was planned months ago, and it was said today to have no other significance.

CONTINUE EVIDENCE IN ICE CREAM SUIT

Hearing of evidence will continue in federal district court today in the case of the American Sugar Refining company, a corporation of Jersey City, N. J., against George Moore, Ice Cream company of Atlanta, in which the defendant for the aggregate sum of $8,206.40 for alleged breach of contract on six counts. The case was opened before Judge Samuel H. Sibbey Monday morning.

It is claimed in the petition that in June and July, 1920, the Moore company, at six different occasions contracted to accept shipments of granulated sugar from the plaintiff and that on every occasion the shipments were made and the defendant notified, but the petition alleges, the defendant refused to accept any of the shipments. The plaintiff seeks $1,617.16 in the first count, $1,306.62 in the second, $1,326.43 in the third, $1,314.88 in the fourth, $1,326.43 in the fifth and $1,314.88 in the sixth.

TREASURY SURPLUS IS HALF BILLION

Washington, June 23.—Uncle Sam has done business on a paying scale this year, and will wind up on June 30 with a surplus of $500,000,000, representing excess of receipts over expenditures.

This figure, officially announced at the treasury Monday, compares with earlier predictions of between $225,000,000 and $400,000,000, though recent unofficial figures placed the surplus around $500,000,000. Tax reduction under the Mellon plan was based on a probable surplus of $225,000,000. The surplus of $500,000,000 will care for the greater tax reduction made as well as first payments on the bonds.

In explaining the increased surplus, a high treasury official stated that $500,000,000 not expected had come through payment of interest by Great Britain on her war debt in gold, instead of liberty bonds, and between $50,000,000 and $60,000,000 more than estimated had come through sale of securities by the U. S. railroad administration. Easier money brought a demand for certain types of securities which had not been looked for, it was pointed out.

Tax receipts, too, were greater than expected, which added to the surplus in the treasury. The quarterly payments just completed netted between $340,000,000 and $350,000,000, it was said, comparing with about $330,000,000 for the second quarter last year.

BANDIT CLIMBS PORCH, RANSACKS HOME, GETS $15

While the family was automobile riding, burglars Monday night ransacked the home of Mrs. D. H. Hembrey, 774 West Peachtree street, stealing $15 in cash and a revolver. Clothing and other articles of value, including silverware and jewelry, were tossed aside, as the thieves evidently were searching only for money.

Entrance was gained by climbing to the roof of the front porch, and cutting out the screen in a bedroom window on the second floor. Police think that the robbery was perpetrated by the same bandit who has terrorized that section of the city for the past three weeks.

Aged Negro Dies. Augusta, Ga., June 23.—Judson W. Lyons, of this city, died at his home yesterday from a heart attack after a brief illness. He was 64 years old. During McKinley's administration he was registrar of the United States treasury. He was for many years republican national committeeman for Georgia.

WINNIPEG REPORT
SENDS WHEAT UP

Chicago, June 23.—Predictions of a bearish crop report tomorrow at Winnipeg, together with talk of black rust have caused a decline in wheat.

crop were largely responsible for the domestic upturn in wheat prices here today. Chicago closing quotations for wheat were strong, 3-8 to 7-8c net higher. July $1.13-4 to $1.13-7 1/2 net higher. September $1.15-1 1/4 to $1.15-3 1/4 net. At 2@21-8c up, at 2@21-8c gain, and provisions varying from the decline to a rise of 2 to 5c.

At first, the wheat market underwent a decided setback as a result of it was said to be a scarcity where there light export offerings here, however, were acting and with a profit-making trade showing an upward trend, market from the responsive to bullish new Winnipeg. The fact that foreign exchange rates were higher and so on led 1,450,000 bushels decrease in the United States visible supply total. Corn showed strength in the market, a new high price record for the season, with the July delivery touching the record, running below the required requirements, the market turned up briskly, and fears excited by much rain was interfered subsequently.

Professional stock market. Professional traders apparently have given up trying to guess the trend of the stock market, and are concentrating on shares that, for another special reason might move. The market was inclined to be irregular, so the price movement was went downward, Atlantic Refining being a new low. There has been a good buying of Montgomery Ward by banking interests, which supply of the stock. The company is doing better than other mail order houses, showing the five months of $9,561,000, while those last year, Sears, Roebuck & Company, a much larger, $2,494,000. Ward predict a gain for June of over $3,000,000, than that would be a better showing were heard in the financial district that Atlantic Refining would shortly get $10,000,000 in new bonds, and the dividends might be based on the common stock. The company did last year its preferred dividend was part of originally Atlantic Refining afterwards was continued Oil and Oil interests. Recently, Standard Oil of New York, however, has points learned in his Wall Street and Western experiences.

General Electric announces a cut of 10 per cent in the price of prices July 1. This is a precedent leap in 27 months and the second this year, bringing the price 37 per cent below the peak. The cut just announced will save approximately $7,000,000. The company made possible price reductions have been improved methods and machinery and the demand. During the past few years General Electric has had to defend itself against a combination of charges of maintaining a combination of charges of maintaining in the manufacture of electrical management. Undoubtedly the time lags of answering these charges with price cuts. It is possible, one reason for getting prices down, as the company has followed by Henry Ford, that that followed age competition. General Electric during the past two years finds the lamp manufacture and of its business very profitable.

THE GUMPS—IF THE PEOPLE INSIST

out as I was, I still had my ideals—all that Crusader stuff, you know, of which they used to talk. So instead of going out west to the mountains, as I suppose I should have done, I started to work among the chaps flat on their backs in the government hospitals, or men hobnobbing with one leg left, or none at all—blind men, doughboys who had licked the best army the world ever saw, fighting for humanity—for democracy. Ha! There're there yet, some of them, in hospitals and institutions the country over. You've forgotten them, you girls who used to have so much fun and so much liberty with your automobiles. They're still there—wondering—just as I've been wondering.

She was staring at him, flushing. But she interposed no remark as he passed.

"I worked among them for their sake, but mostly for my own sake, to get right with myself, wanted to be humane and civilized where before I had been—well, a murderer. I shot down six enemy planes from overhead when they didn't have a chance."

"Nonsense. They'd have shot you down. They did."

"Oh, I know. We were alike—all young chaps sent out to kill. It's left something in me somewhere—something bad."

"Your humane work among the soldiers didn't do you a lot of good, over. You've forgotten them, you girls who used to have so much fun and so much liberty with your automobiles. They're still there—wondering—just as I've been wondering."

She was staring at him, flushing. But she interposed no remark as he passed.

"I worked among them for their sick man. Couldn't have gone to work even if a job had been laid at my feet. So I took what money I had, bought a scapine from the government, and became—what was that you said? Oh, yes, an air backman. That was better than going in for highway robbery as some of the boys have done."

"Donald, I wonder if you realize what you have been talking?"

"Is that the way you size it up? Well, now, listen. I didn't come here this morning with any idea of making love to you or reproaching you. If you'll recall, I haven't done either."

"No, it was business with you. I understand that. But do you always carry those love letters as you conduct your business?"

"No. I thought you might want them—if only so you could destroy them and be sure such things weren't hanging about in the world. I would have destroyed them, but then, you wouldn't be sure they were out of the way."

"That's chivalrous. I think you're right. May I have them?"

He picked them up and placed them in her hand.

"Another thing, Muriel. I wanted to tell you. I don't hold anything against you, don't blame you in any way. I've come to the conclusion you have the right idea about life. It took a long while to work it out. For I held our love—if it was love—pretty high. In France I never turned in at night without a prayer I should be permitted to come back to you. And in the morning I always faced the west and spoke your name."

"Well, he shrugged, "that's past. I've got my health now, and next week I start in with the Acme Steel company; I start in right, too. Chick Ayres, son of Caleb Ayres, the president, was my observer in France. So take your last look at your air backman. I'm on my way. Watch my dust. This old country may owe me a little; but before I'm done, I'll get a damned lot more than it owes. From now on I'm out for the coin."

She started to speak and then checked herself. Her eyes burned un-naturally.

"The sentiment is all right. I suppose, but do you have to express it like a ruffian?"

"I just wanted to tell you in soldier English. You see, if you hadn't struck it rich and been picked up by society and wooed by wealthy men, I'd have come back from the—"

"Oh, no; it's life. It's the way things work out. I wasn't going to be mournful. I was simply going to sketch out things as they might have been—so that you and I could have a good harsh laugh. Now get away, or I'll grab you and kiss you—just for the satisfaction of getting for nothing something that some other man will have to pay for. Well, that's life too, isn't it?"

Her eyes were blazing—there were no tears in them.

"You—you make me sick," she said in a low voice. "If I—"

He gestured warningly, and following his glance, she saw Arthur Fane making his way down the path toward them.

"Aha," he laughed, "the early bird catches the aviator! I was a little curious myself. Will you introduce us, Muriel?"

Muriel with light manner complied.

Dear Jack: It's now been taken from the nursery into the photoplay room, and reads like this:

Twinkle, twinkle, movie star, How I wonder what you are! An angel child, as you claim to be Or the vamp you play so perfectly. Dorothy Delagers—Can you tell me the gist of the poem beginning, "Where are the snows of yesterday?" or shall I write to the weather bureau?

Dear Dottie: We offer a little lyric which is "gist" what you are looking for:

Where are the snows of yesterday? This may disquiet the high-brows, But what I'd like to know, my dear, Is where are your last year's eye-brows.

A Victim of the Age

John Craig—You would oblige me greatly if you'd give me your version of that nursery rhyme about "Twinkle, twinkle, little star—"

Dear Dottie: We offer a little lyric which is "gist" what you are looking for:

Where are the snows of yesterday? This may disquiet the high-brows, But what I'd like to know, my dear, Is where are your last year's eye-brows.

KISSES IN THE DARK.

By O. Ashbury.

For every shooting star he claimed a kiss; She, seeming coy, demurred at first to this. But he, persisting, would not be denied. When soon a flying meteor he espied. And so, as darkness grew apace, their eyes oft scanned the glittering aspect of the skies. And when a "darling star" caught either's sight, Sounds of kissing broke upon the night!

And so it came to pass, anon, that she looked for shooting stars quite as much as he. Nay, if by chance a star escaped his view, She called his wand'ring fancy to it, too. When intervals seemed long between each hug, She hailed with glee a passing lightening bug. But, soon taxing her ingenious mind, Her ready wit enabled her to find More shooting stars in three short hours, Than would compose whole heavenly bowers.

But when she did her last prelude exhaust, And was about to yield her cause as lost, She saw a switchman's lantern gleaming swing, And got the youth down to a steady thing!

The Air Hackman

"Love letters! Yes, that's what they are, aren't they? I wrote them on a little white-painted desk. I haven't that desk now. It was left behind in the old house—left behind with lots of other things. It had a quaint legend burned in the front: 'Look in thy heart and write.'"

"I don't look in my heart any more. It's apt to get one into trouble." She paused, waiting for him to speak, but he had nothing to say.

"You see, the girl you left when you went to France, Don, and the girl you see now, are not the same. They're different, altogether."

"I think so, too." Life is a grand whirl now, all excitement and thrill—dressmakers, men, all sorts of situations. She glanced at the letters in her hand. "As I look back, I see a girl, Don, rather stupid—callow, perhaps; I don't know—at all events awfully provincial. I am yet, in a way, I suppose. But I think it's because a little of that gives me a sort of heightened charm with people."

"So you see!" She shrugged. "These letters, Don dear, were from another girl—oh, a totally different girl. They mean something to me, if anything, because they give me a sort of romantic background, something which men catch and make them think I've lived." She laughed again.

As Reported By Griff Crawford.

Lucy Frisbie and Tobe Waddell were married Saturday night. They have been engaged for eight years and had quite a wedding. Ye scribe was invited and wrote a poem on "Love," which he read:

Love.

Love, it is a bad disease—Not many can endure it; A doctor won't do any good, A wedding's all will cure it.

Now Lucy she has married Tobe, And has the proof to back it, I'll bet they have a row each time Their children make a racket.

Many laughed and Lucy blushed. Everybody had a good time but the groom. Ye scribe was complimented and given an extra piece of some very fair wedding cake.

Rev. Asa Offenwaldt preached from the text, "The Wages of Sin," and Miss Tillie Hauser sang "Lark, Show Me the Way" in a fervent manner.

A Riddle.

A bride and groom were going abroad for their honeymoon. While leaving over the ship's railing, the bride dropped one of her rings overboard. She was deeply grieved over the loss. Some time after, dining in a hotel in Naples, they ordered fish.

What do you think they found in the fish?

Answer: The ring. —J. E. Miller.

Grand Council Fire Holds Exercises In Piedmont Park

The Grand Council fire which was staged in Piedmont park at 8 o'clock Monday evening by the Camp Fire Girls of Atlanta was attended by a large representative body of men, women and children of the city.

The demonstration, which took place on the left side of the parade ground, was one of the most unique ever witnessed in Atlanta, and presented a scene of striking beauty and interest. Two hundred girls, ranging in age from 8 to 18 years and many of them wearing the ceremonial costume of Camp Fire, formed an immense circle about the brilliant camp fire which was the center of the ceremonial activities. The audience, forming another large circle, occupied seats on the terrace above.

Within the inner circle Miss Mary Louise Wilson, local executive, Miss Florence Heintz, national field secretary of Camp Fire Girls, presided over the ritual.

The ceremonial was opened with the Wobelo call given by Miss Wilson, and was answered by all the Camp Fire Girls present. Following this, "Wobelo for Aye," a favorite song of the Camp Fire Girls, was sung in unison. Those taking part in the candle lighting ceremony were three girls belonging to the Aokiya Camp Fire group under the guardianship of Mrs. Marvin Underwood. They were Gertrude Babcock, who lighted the fire of health, and Florence Underwood, who lighted the fire of love. Maker's rank is the second step in the Camp Fire program.

Two girls won the signal honor of being awarded the rank of torch bearer. Theresa Atkinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Atkinson, and Ruth Brooks were the fortunate girls receiving this rank and the right to wear the pin of the torch bearers. They have at all times manifested a beautiful spirit and have contributed much actual service to Camp Fire.

Following the initiation into ranks, the Camp Fire Girls of the city, led by Theresa Atkinson and Ruth Brooks, gave 25 cheers for Miss Heintz who is more affectionately known by girls throughout the country as "Pickles." A number of songs which followed proved to be one of the most enjoyable features of the program.

The fire extinguishing ceremony which is another part of Camp Fire symbolism was performed by Theresa Atkinson.

The last song of the evening, "Sheltering Flame," sung by the girls, marked the close of the program.

Among the distinguished guests of the Camp Fire Girls on this occasion were: Mrs. Juliette Gordon Low, head of the "Georgian," Miss Georgia Witticheit, the national staff of the girl reserves, Theresa Atkinson gave the ode to the fire, after which there was another song, "Burn, Fire, Burn."

The beautiful creed of Camp Fire Girls, setting forth their high ideals, was presented most effectively by Ruth Brooks.

Fay Bowman gave a rhymed version of the recent week enjoyed by the Camp Fire Girls of the city at Hillsboro.

The awarding of honors by Miss Wilson and the receiving of rank by a number of attractive Atlanta girls was a feature of the evening's program.

Following the giving of the honor beads to a dozen girls, the main points in the health chart which is stressed in the Camp Fire program were presented in pantomime by Betty Comer, Thelma Firestone, Elizabeth Sharpe and Elizabeth Lasseter.

The "Work Song," in three parts, was rendered by 10 Camp Fire Girls. They were Betty Comer, Elizabeth Sharpe, Thelma Firestone, Elizabeth Lasseter, Gertrude Babcock, Florence Underwood, Josephine Joseph, Waterman, Ruth Brooks and Margaret Wells.

Four girls received the rank of wood gatherer at the Council Fire: Betty Gilmore, Elizabeth Lasseter, Elizabeth Sharpe and Betty Comer. Each girl announced the name that she had chosen for use within the Camp Fire circle and explained its symbolism.

Margaret Jordan became a fire maker at Monday evening's ceremonial and was awarded the fire maker's bracelet.

FAIR WEATHER AHEAD

Few Cooling Showers Seen for Week.

With temperatures slightly lower than of last week, Atlanta Monday had a week of continued sunshine and fair weather, with only the prospect of an occasional thunder shower to afford relief from the intense heat. This was according to the prediction of C. F. von Herrmann, meteorologist in charge of the local office of the United States weather bureau.

Today will be fair and warm, and little change is anticipated throughout the week. The mercury, both Sunday and Monday, rose only to the 90-degree mark, three degrees less than the maximum readings for several days last week, and it is not expected that it will go above the 90 mark for the next day or two. Gentle breezes have tempered the rays of heat while the reduction is only three degrees, nevertheless it made it much pleasanter for those whose business or pleasure pursuits kept them out of doors.

CROUCH RAPS WINTER IN PUBLIC STATEMENT

Declaring that Roger Winter, director of publicity for the Stone Mountain Confederate Memorial association, had "evaded answering certain questions propounded in a public statement recently concerning Winter's salary, Dr. Charles F. Crouch, secretary of the Golden Rule Club of America, has asked The Constitution to publish the following statement:

"Editor Constitution: Replying to the card of Roger Winter in The Constitution of June 23: He has evaded answering my card of the 22nd. What the donors of the Stone Mountain Confederate Memorial association would like to know from Mr. Rogers Winter is whether or not he and his wife have drawn $5,000 annually and what he is doing to serve it. He worked two hours in the Atlanta Journal, where he has worked one hour in this association, yet he and his wife have drawn $5,000 and one-half times more salaries than he drew in the Atlanta Journal. He has drawn a salary from the McAdoo campaign, and was at the same time drawing a salary from this association.

"The donors who gave their money to this association would like to know how he persuaded himself to accept two salaries, one from the McAdoo campaign managers and the other from the Stone Mountain Confederate Memorial association. He states that the executive committee are public-spirited citizens, working without pay. It occurs to me that the pay he is receiving for his services should compensate every member of the executive committee, and if he has drawn two salaries, neglecting to fill a full-time position for the purpose of securing an additional salary, the donors of this association should demand his immediate removal."

AN OPEN LETTER TO WOMEN

Tells of Mrs. Vogel's Terrible Suffering and how she was Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Detroit, Michigan.—"My troubles were severe pains in my back and terrible bearing-down pains in my right side, also headaches and sleepless nights. I first began having these troubles when I was 15, and they have increased as I grew older. A little booklet was left at my door, and I read it. It was Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for women and decided to try it. After the first week I could go to sleep every night and I stopped having that nervous feeling and got a better appetite. The doctor had always said that an operation was the only thing that would help me, but I never had any faith in an operation. Since the Vegetable Compound has started helping me I do not suffer the severe pains, feel stronger, and am able to do my own work. I am more than glad to tell my friends that it helps where other medicines have failed."

—Mrs. GUS VOGEL, 6608 Pelouze St., Detroit, Michigan.

A record of fifty years service must convince women of the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

American Tennis Stars Triumph at Wimbledon

Wimbledon, England, June 23.—To atone for the disastrous experiences of the American women's tennis team in last week's Wightman cup matches with the British women, Vincent Richards, Watson Washburn and Francis Hunter wrought a star-spangled triumph for the United States in the first day's play of the men's tournament on the Wimbledon courts Monday.

There were about 8,000 witnesses to the retributive ceremony, including several hundred appointed admirals from Annapolis who came to be in England in the course of their summer cruise.

Young Richards, still known as a boy wonder although he has assumed the tremendous responsibility of matrimony and acquired a safety razor, is as popular in England as Helen Wills, of California, the American women's champion, who was defeated twice in the women's team matches. He is a heavy favorite to win the title which Little Bill Johnston, of California, is defending by his non-attendance this year. On the women's side of the world championship matches, Mlle. Suzanne Lenglen, of France, the champion, is the favorite in the betting because the pocketbook knows no friends. If sentiment counted in the wagering, Miss Wills or one of the more popular English girls would be favored. But it is realized that, however unpopular Mlle. Lenglen is able to make herself, she is nevertheless a great tennis player.

Richards Plays First.

Richards was awarded the honor of playing in the first match of the men's tournament. He lost only two games to A. E. Park, of New Zealand, and those two were virtually donated to the athlete from the land down under. Only two other games were permitted to go to deuce, and Richards won, 6-1, 6-1, 6-0.

Washburn met a little sterner opposition in beating La Godenree, of France, 4, 6-0, 7-5. Hunter met J. C. Park and took the match without much difficulty, 6-1, 6-2, 6-2.

The other two American men, Dick Williams and Carl Fischer, did not get started Monday, their first-round matches being postponed until Tuesday.

Other matches of the first day went as follows: N. Miss beat J. C. Masterson by default; Rene Lacoste, of France, beat Okamoto, of Japan, 6-2, 4-6, 6-3, 6-4; Manuel Alonso, of Spain, beat J. C. Gregory, of England, 6-1, 6-3, 6-4; Jean Borotra, of France, beat N. Willford, 9-11, 6-4, 6-3, 6-3.

Motorcycle Racer Dies of Injuries

Word was received here Monday from Stroudsburg, Pa., of the death there Sunday of Gene Walker, motorcycle racer, who was injured a week ago at a Stroudsburg track while he was testing out a new motorcycle. Walker raced in Atlanta, his former home, in 1919 and won several national championships at that time.

Walker leaves a wife and two children, who are now in Birmingham, Ala., Walker's home. He was 27 years old.

In 1920, Walker broke all previous endurance speed records at Daytona, Fla., by averaging 116 miles per hour.

The Atlanta Motorcycle club will send a floral design, it was announced last night by Wayman Boyles, secretary, who is receiving contributions.

LEWIS IS MATCHED WITH MIKE ROMANO

Chicago, June 23.—Ed "Strangler" Lewis, world's heavyweight wrestling champion, today was matched to meet Mike Romano, Italian challenger for the title, in a finish match at the Chicago American league park on July 11, the night before the running of the Chicago derby.

COURT TURNS DOWN GARRETT'S LAST PLEA

Wytheville, Va., June 23.—The state supreme court of appeals in session here today refused the plea of attorneys for Robert O. Garrett, Cumberland county clerk, and his brother, Markin C. Garrett, that they be permitted to argue orally their petition for writs of error.

The court announced that it adhered to its ruling on the written plea of the attorneys that the brothers were not entitled to writs of error.

The court's action was said by attorneys to be the last legal step that could be taken to keep the Garretts, under sentence in connection with the shooting to death of the Rev. Edward Sylvester Pierce in front of the Baptist parsonage at Cumberland courthouse on June 5, 1923, from beginning their prison terms. Robert Garrett was sentenced to five years and his brother to four years in the state penitentiary for their respective part in the slaying which witnesses at their trials testified grew out of an alleged remark by Mr. Pierce about members of the Garrett family. The brothers are scheduled to begin their sentences tomorrow.

Montana's corn crop increased to 365,000 acres in 1923 from 1,900 acres in 1900.

McGrew Gets Five Day Suspension

Memphis, Tenn., June 23.—(Special.)—"Slim" McGrew, Chick pitcher, has been suspended five days and fined $35 as the result of his fight with "Rhino" Williams. Mobile outfielder, in the eighth inning of today's game, it was announced tonight by John D. Martin, president of the Southern league. After hearing the reports of Umpires Hadley Williams and Tim Doolan, President Martin stated that he would not punish Williams other than the $10 automatic fine for being put out of the game.

The fight was the culmination of Williams being hit by a pitched ball. As Williams started to first base he mumbled something and looked toward the pitcher's box. McGrew walked over to him and they squared off. McGrew got in a couple of rights to the face, one that cut Williams' nose. Rhino landed a right that raised a bump on Slim's forehead. Players parted the fighters.

McGrew and Williams later talked it over and shook hands. McGrew claimed that he thought Williams had cursed him. Williams denied this.

Berlenbach Hurt, May Not Meet Stribling Thursday

New York, June 23.—Because of an eye injury suffered in a bout last week, Paul Berlenbach is not expected to be able to oppose Young Stribling in one of the four star bouts arranged for the milk fund show Thursday night. Efforts are being made to substitute Jimmy Slattery, of Buffalo.

Slattery was credited with a decision over the Georgian in a six-round bout at Buffalo last winter. Both are under 21 and the match would be limited to six rounds by state law.

Black Gold Trails In Derby Prelim

Linton, Ky., June 23.—Black Gold, winner of three derbies, was a distant trailer in the "derby preliminary," a race for a purse of $2,000, at one mile and one-eighth, which was won by Chilhowee, here today. Gibbon finished second and Lord Martin third. The time was $1:50 4-5.

Schultz Lines Out Two Homers

Philadelphia, June 23.—Joe Schultz, the Philadelphia National's outfielder, recently acquired from Cincinnati, lined out two home runs in the second game with Boston this afternoon. In the sixth, with the bases full, and again in the eighth, with one man on base, he hit into the left field bleachers.

FIRPO AGREES TO FIGHT WILLS

New York, June 23.—Tex Rickard has slipped a ring through the nozzle of the Wild Bull of the Pampas at last and will lead that cranky celebrity into the ring at Royle's Thirty Acres some time late in August for the much-discussed fight with Harry Wills, the colored man from New Orleans. Rickard, for the third time in as many months, announced Monday evening that he had closed an agreement with Luis Angelo Firpo, by cable, and that the Wild Bull was willing to fight for a percentage of the gate receipts.

"Moo-moo" was the Wild Bull's cabled reply to Rickard's proposition. To those who are familiar with the bull language, this means "dear sir, yours received and in reply would say that I accept your offer."

The Wild Bull was thoroughly domesticated by Jack Dempsey, the notorious bull-whacker, one night last September, but when Mr. Rickard waved a cluster of green money before his eyes, Luis Angelo snorted and became wild again.

Fight on Percentage.

Wills is known as the Panther of New Orleans, but in his recent fight with Bartley Madden in Brooklyn he conducted himself like a senile house-cat. That caused Mr. Rickard to cancel his $250,000 guarantee to the Wild Bull and negotiate the new agreement on a percentage basis.

The purpose of the match is to provide employment and income for Jack Dempsey. The winner, who probably will be Firpo, will be matched with the champion for a bout along about the middle of September.

Rickard will tell more about the promotion when the democratic convention has been disposed of and there is more space available in the papers for his announcements.

FRENCH RACE DRIVER ESTABLISHES RECORD

Manufacturers—Sell Your Goods Nearer Home At Less Cost

Southern manufacturers would find it to their advantage to concentrate their sales efforts on the states nearby. Freight rates are in their favor, and it costs less to travel salesman. Intensified sales effort in all the Southern states will produce results.

South Carolina Has Hardly Any Foreign Population

This is one of the all-American states. Out of almost two million people, less than 5,000 are foreign born. This means that South Carolinians can be easily influenced as a mass, because their buying habits are much alike.

South Carolina Offers Great Opportunities For Selling Campaigns

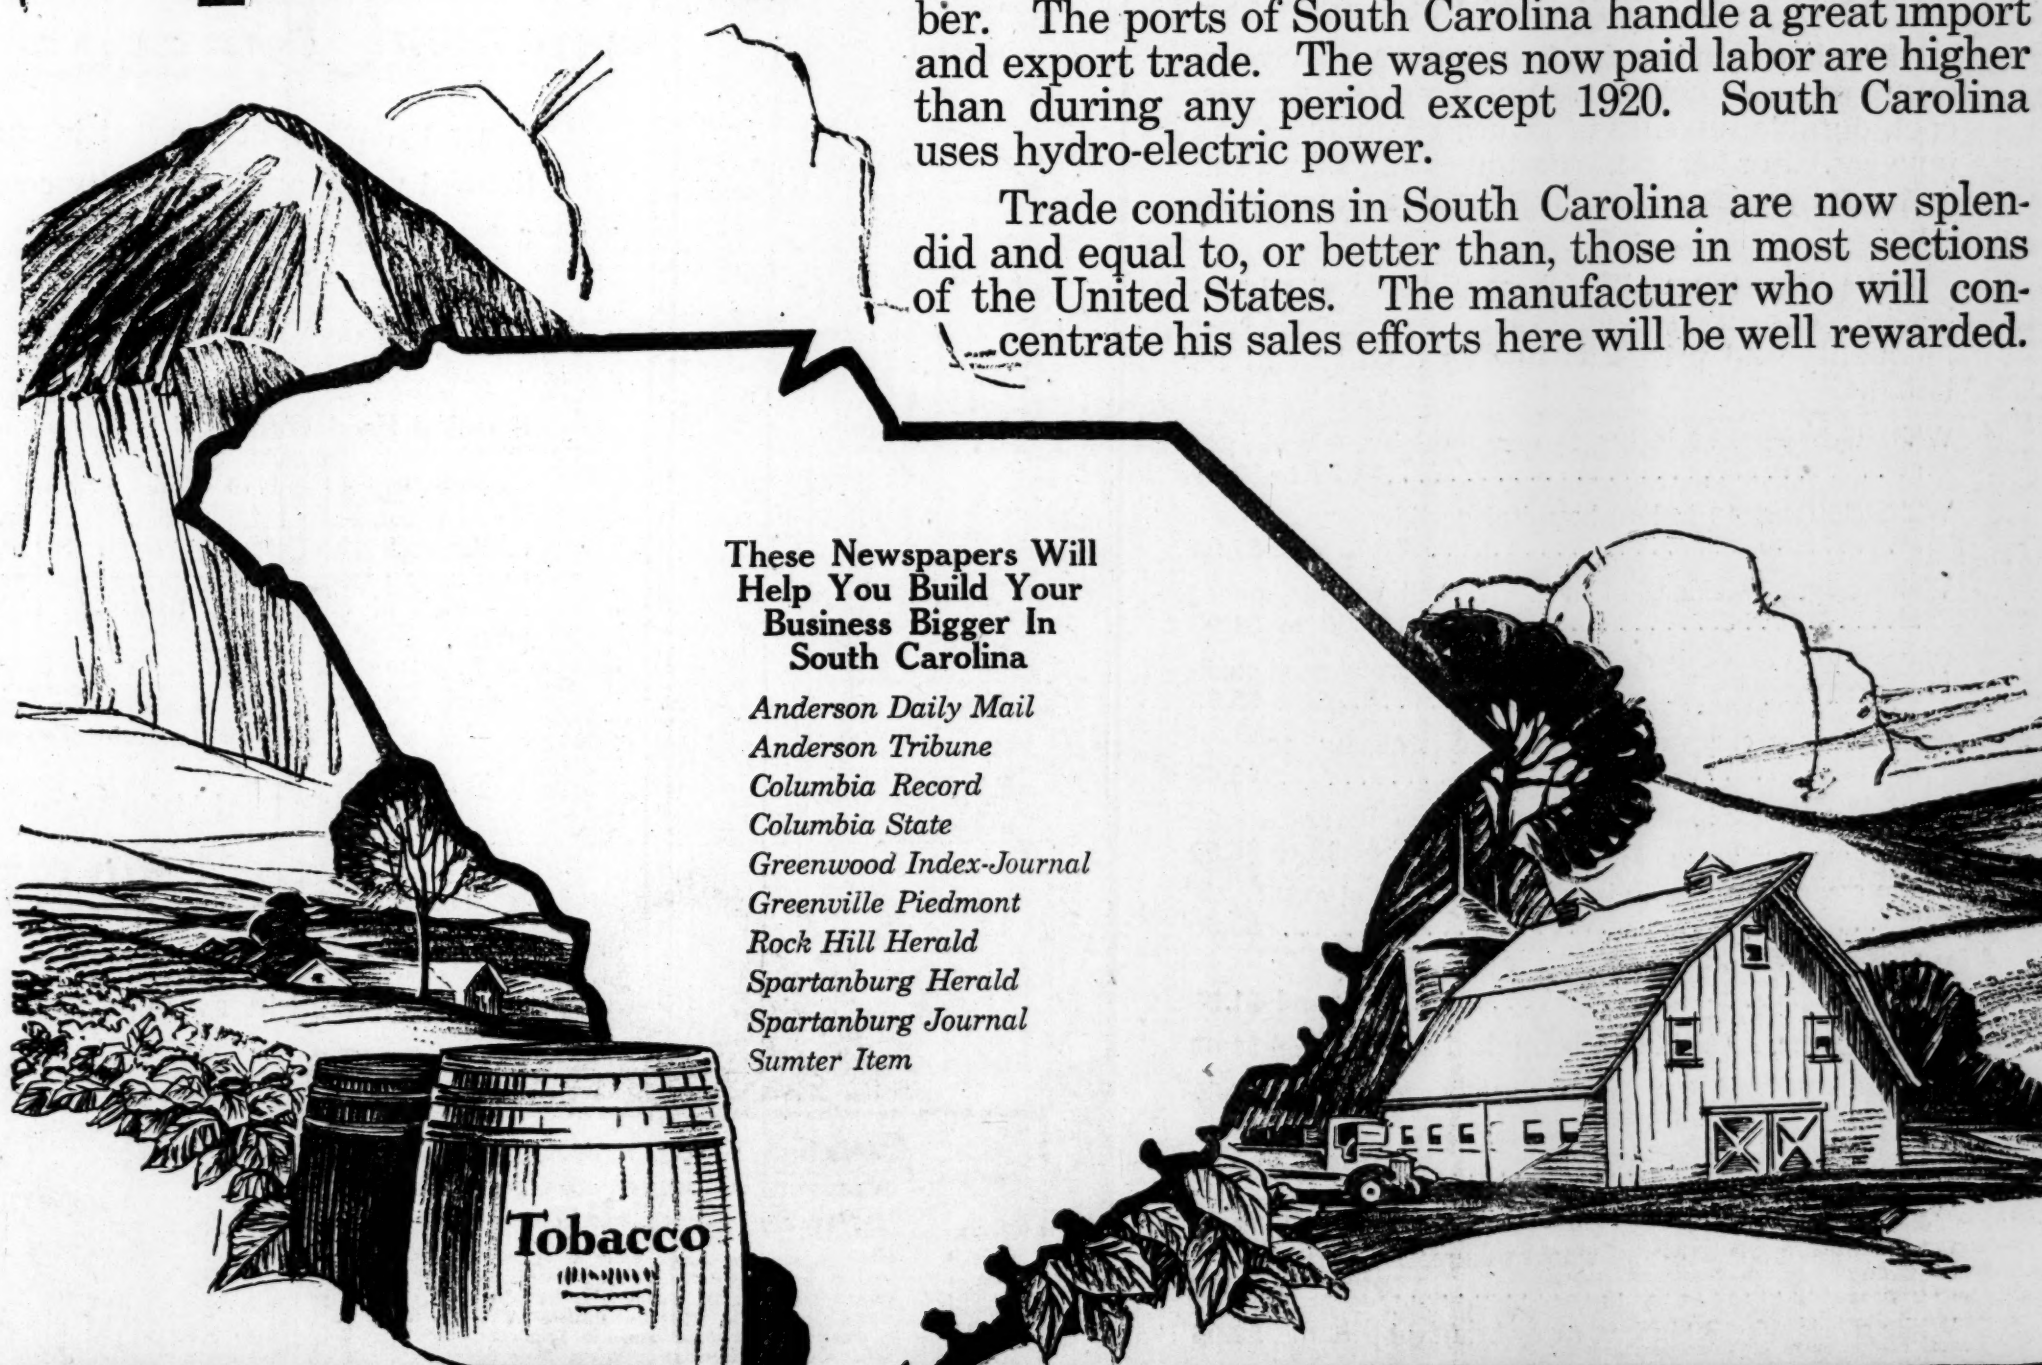

South Carolina is a wealthy agricultural state. In 1920 it led all of the other states in the Union in the value of its products, per cultivated acre.

South Carolina ranks third of all the states in the Union in the production of cotton oil, fertilizers and lumber. The ports of South Carolina handle a great import and export trade. The wages now paid labor are higher than during any period except 1920. South Carolina uses hydro-electric power.

Trade conditions in South Carolina are now splendid and equal to, or better than, those in most sections of the United States. The manufacturer who will concentrate his sales efforts here will be well rewarded.

M'ADOO ADDRESSES WESTERN DELEGATES

New York, June 23.—Progressive democracy will recover the American government from privilege and debauchery and set it again on the high road of moral standards, William G. McAdoo declared today in an address of greeting to delegates from nine western states, Hawaii and the Philippines, who came across the continent in two special trains.

Facing the cheering delegations from a balcony in front of his up-town hotel, the candidate for the democratic presidential nomination told them his enemies were spreading the word that after a few ballots they would turn away from him.

"There were cries of 'No, no,' from the crowd which choked Fourth avenue for a block.

"I know you didn't come here to betray a trust," McAdoo continued. "We're last ditchers," he cried one delegate from Oregon amid cheers.

"We're not last ditchers," Mr. McAdoo replied, "but we are democratic triumphants."

Delegation From West.

When the former treasury secretary referred to recovering the government from private interests a voice shouted: "Don't forget Teapot Dome."

"We'll soak the republicans for their dirty scandal from now until election day," McAdoo replied.

In the New York hotel and the Philippines, delegates on the special trains were from California, Oregon, Washington, Nevada, Utah, Idaho, Colorado and North and South Dakota.

Arriving at the Grand Central station half an hour behind schedule, the delegates were greeted by committees representing Mayor Hylan and McAdoo.

After the welcoming ceremonies in the station concourse, the delegations formed in line behind the band for the march over Fifth avenue for headquarters.

Miss Marjorie Dyer, of San Francisco, waving a California flag, danced along at the head of the procession, leading in the singing and cheering.

Welcomed by McAdoo.

The marchers made only slow progress and long before they reached his hotel, Mr. McAdoo was ready to welcome them to the hotel and the lobby fifteen minutes beforehand and was surrounded by friends and delegates and held an impromptu reception.

With the arrival of the head of the column the former secretary of the treasury, with Mrs. McAdoo and his campaign manager, David Ladd Rockwell, stepped out on the balcony.

There was a cheer from the California delegation, which was first to wheel into Fourth avenue, and McAdoo waved his black sombrero.

As each delegation crowded into the space in front of the hotel the cheering continued as the band swung into "California Here I Come."

The demonstration lasted several minutes and before McAdoo could begin his address the visitors under the leadership of Miss Day sang "McAdoo, We Are All For You" to the tune of "Maryland, My Maryland."

After the formal welcome Mr. McAdoo retired to the hotel lobby where he and Mrs. McAdoo greeted the delegates personally. Then the individual delegations separated for the trip to their respective hotels.

FORBES AND THOMPSON TRIALS ARE POSTPONED

Chicago, June 23.—The trial of Charles Forbes, former director of the veterans' bureau, and John W. Thompson, hospital contractor, today was postponed for a third time at the instance of Assistant Attorney General John W. Crim.

The case was set for hearing July 14, but it was reported at the federal building that the trial would not begin until after the trial of Forbes and Thompson are under indictment, charged with bribery and conspiracy to corrupt a government official.

TAINTED ICE CREAM MAKES 300 SICK

Prescott, Ariz., June 23.—More than 300 patients, physicians and nurses of the United States veterans' bureau hospital at Fort Whipple are recovering from illness which they were stricken after eating ice cream spoiled by tainted milk, according to hospital authorities.

Colonel Gail D. Allen, commanding officer, and members of his family were among those who became ill. Thirty aides and nurses were unable to report for duty at the hospital this morning. All will recover, physicians announced. Hospital officials today ordered an investigation.
